Motorway shut after bridge fall

A SECTION of a motorway was closed after a man fell from a bridge as Britain celebrated the arrival of 2013.

The eastbound carriageway of the M27 at Hedge End in Hampshire was shut shortly after midnight between junctions five and seven following the death.

A police spokeswoman said: "The incident happened shortly after midnight on New Year's Day. The man died at the scene."

"The road is closed eastbound between those junctions until further notice while police investigate."

"The death is not thought to be suspicious at this time."

She added that the man was yet to be identified.

One-in-four youths glum

MORE than one in four young people in work admit to feeling down or depressed "always" or "often" with this figure rising to nearly half amongst their unemployed peers, according to research released by a youth charity.

The Prince's Youth Trust study into the happiness of young people found 27% in work reported feeling down or depressed "always" or "often" increasing to 48% amongst those who are not in employment, education or training (Neets).

The survey findings, based on interviews with 2,136 16-to-25-year-olds in the UK, showed that one in 10 feels unable to cope with day-to-day life.

WILLS CHOPPER IN HUNT FOR BLACKPOOL STORM VICTIM

Hope fading for 41-year-old swept out to sea

A RESCUE helicopter piloted by Prince William yesterday joined the search for a man swept into the sea in gale-force winds.

The 41-year-old was reported to have been walking his dog in Blackpool with another man when both men ended up in the water shortly after midnight on New Year's Day.

The second man was able to get to safety and raise the alarm.

A search was carried out overnight by RNLI and Coastguard crews from Blackpool and Lytham St Annes, assisted by the Lancs Police helicopter and the search and rescue helicopter from RAF Valley on Anglesey - where the Duke of Cambridge is based.

A second search got under way just after first light yesterday.

Stuart Atkinson, watch manager at the Crosby Coastguard station, said: "We received a call at 12.13am from Lancashire Police reporting that a male was in the water near the South Pier at Blackpool."

"A second male had been in the water but managed to get to safety and raise the alarm."

"We believe, but it's not confirmed, that they were walking their dogs."

"A search was carried out by coastguard rescue units, the local RNLI lifeboats from Blackpool and Lytham St Annes and the police helicopter."

"The rescue helicopter from RAF Valley was also there providing lighting assistance for the search teams."

"The area was searched and unfortunately we didn't find the 41-year-old male at that time, but we are carrying out a second search at present."

"We do believe a life ring was thrown to him and a football. We have located the football but not the life ring."

Mr Atkinson said the search operation was hampered due to very strong, gale-force winds. "Westerly winds are aimed straight at the sea shore and made it difficult for the lifeboat crews."

The current search was focusing on an area of the Irish Sea around the South Pier and the sea wall at Blackpool.

Cam warns G8 to take bold steps

DAVID Cameron has told fellow G8 leaders they must start work now on preparing "bold steps" to take when they meet in Northern Ireland in June for the annual summit.

The Prime Minister, in a letter marking the start of the UK's presidency of the group, warned he would not allow a summit where rich nations "simply whip out a chequebook at the 11th hour, pledge some money and call it a success".

And he signalled that the UK was looking for concrete moves on anti-corruption measures and plans to tackle global tax avoidance.

The summit will see U.S. president Barack Obama, Russia's Vladimir Putin, German chancellor Angela Merkel and other world leaders gather for two days at the Lough Erne golf resort in County Fermanagh.

Brit dies amid gang shootout

A BRITISH tourist was shot dead at a New Year's Eve party in Thailand after being caught in crossfire between local gangs, it has been reported.

The 22-year-old - named locally as Stephen Ashton - was said to have been killed as he dined with friends at a beach bar on the island of Koh Phangan.

He is thought to have been killed when a fight erupted between the gangs.

A Foreign Office spokesman said: "We are aware of the death of a British national in Thailand on New Year's Eve and we are providing consular assistance to the family."

KILLER CRUSH

AT least 61 people were killed and 200 injured in a stampede when New Year celebrations turned into a panicked stampede in Abidjan, Ivory Coast.

Obama hails cliffhanger ending

POLITICIANS in the United States have stepped back from the "fiscal cliff" which many feared could prompt a new economic downturn.

Early on New Year's Day, the Democrat-dominated Senate passed legislation to block huge tax increases and spending cuts.

A vote in the Republican-led House of Representatives is expected later.

Shortly after the Senate vote, President Barack Obama welcomed the deal, which came after weeks of intense negotiations.

He said: "While neither Democrats nor Republicans got everything they wanted, this agreement is the right thing to do for our country."

Mr Obama said the Bill takes a balanced approach to shrinking the U.S. deficit.

The legislation raises rates on incomes over $400,000, blocks spending cuts for two months and extends unemployment benefits for the jobless.

TOWIE Amy: My secret big boobies

SPOILSPORT Amy Childs has vowed to keep her boobs under wraps - because she'd rather keep us guessing about the shape of her curves.

The former TOWIE star, 21, would rather 'sex up' her 32DD chest in lingerie than pose topless.

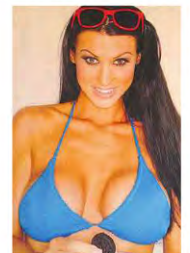

Amy said: "I'd never go topless. I think you can sex it up with a bikini top or underwear - but when you go topless, there's nothing more to see."

"I'd rather keep my top on."

But fans of the red-headed vixen need not worry - she's unveiling a whole host of sexy snaps for her 2013 calendar.

The beautician said: "I'm so excited about it. I shot some of it in Dubai and the pictures are really fun."

"There's one of me in a little waitress outfit and there are a few of me in bikinis from my swimwear collection."

Alice's lesbo threesome

AWESOME Alice Goodwin has told of her kinky lesbo romp with two pals!

The glamour babe says she enjoyed a night of frisky frolics on holiday after ending up in bed with fellow model Leah Francis, 24, another friend and plenty of sex toys.

With Alice's whopping 32FF pair and Leah's 34GG bra-bustin' belters taking up so much room, she admits there wasn't much space to manoeuvre but says they still managed to have fun.

Alice, 26, said: "Well, I had a fun holiday in Ibiza with Leah Francis."

"One night, the two of us and another friend had to stay in one little bed."

"This friend had a bag full of vibrators, and we had a right laugh. I'll let you imagine how!"

Busty Stoke-on-Trent sizzler Alice was training to be a teacher before her curves caught the eye of talent scouts while she was sunbathing on Bournemouth beach.

April Summers

I HAD a fantastic New Year's eve with my boyfriend.

He's really romantic and he whisked me off to Paris for a few days.

We went shopping one afternoon and he bought me some expensive underwear.

Then after dinner and a stroll back to our hotel, I decided to try the lingerie on - and give him a real treat.

But he was so horny that he ripped them off me! So we had to go back to the shop the next morning for more!

Bullet hell at sex site as poacher shoots load

A MAN sat in his car at a notorious DOGGING site is lucky to be alive – after the window was SHOT OUT by a rifle bullet.

The man, who hasn't been named, was in his white Mercedes chatting to two friends – another man and a woman – in the popular sex spot, though there is no suggestion the trio were dogging fans.

All three leapt in terror out of the car and dived for cover after they heard a loud bang and the window shattered.

When they returned to the car they found the windscreen was shattered and a spent .243mm bullet lying in the passenger footwell.

Police said the driver had an "incredibly lucky" escape...he had a burn injury where the bullet had skimmed past his neck as it entered the vehicle.

The believe the round may have been fired by a deer poacher hunting near Squirrel Lane, an unmarked but public road at Magham Down, near Hailsham, which appears on many dogging websites.

WPC Katie Price said "He could easily have been killed."

"We don't believe this was a deliberate act, more likely a mis-directed shot by hunters or poachers, but it was clearly dangerous."

Strop made Kim Jong ill

LATE North Korean dictator Kim Jong Il was killed by a HISSY FIT, it has been claimed.

The evil loon flew into an enormous strop after learning that one of his dam projects had sprung a leak.

And the stress from the tantrum caused the 70-year-old to suffer a heart attack and keel in December 2011.

A source told the South Korean newspaper Chosun Ilbo: "Kim Jong Il rushed to make an onsite inspection unable to contain his anger, and died suddenly."

The specs-wearing nutter (above) did, however, manage to order 'severe punishments' for those responsible for the dam leak before shuffling off his mortal coil.

The gorgeous actress has confessed she's obsessed with graphic telly show Embarrassing Bodies.

The 39-year-old Brit beauty (above) even admitted she loves to see infected knobs and balls!

The red-hot stunna confessed the Channel 4 programme was her "guilty pleasure."

Kate said: "I really like Embarrassing Bodies where everyone is constantly pulling out a diseased penis or testicle."

"Every time I go home, I turn on the TV and somebody's going, 'I've got a leaking ass', and I just can't believe it."

And she added: "I don't know what it says about me that I want to go and see some guy from Newcastle's exploded haemorrhoid!"

Dad goes bats over schoolpal

A PROTECTIVE dad threatened a former schoolpal with a baseball bat - to stop him dating his 17-year-old daughter.

Kenneth O'Keefe, 38, flew into a rage after learning the teenage girl was being romanced by a man his own age.

He took the weapon and went to the house of Neil Morgan, one of his former schoolpals.

A court heard O'Keefe brandished the wooden bat as he confronted him about his relationship with the schoolgirl.

O'Keefe was spared jail after a court was told how he was "incensed" after reading a string of dirty texts on his daughter's phone.

Swansea Crown Court heard: "He had been under a considerable degree of emotional distress having just been told his daughter, then aged 17, had been dating his former schoolmate."

O'Keefe, of Port Talbot, admitted possessing an offensive weapon but he was cleared of assault.

He was given a 12-month community order and must do 200 hours' unpaid work.

NAZI NUTS SET FOR BRIT MASSACRE

LOON WOLF: Mass killer Breivik's extremist acts could be copied in UK, prof fears

SCARY: Hatred could lead to gun spree like Breivik's

Experts warn of Breivik-style rampage

BRITAIN should brace itself for an Anders Breivik-style 'lone wolf' terror attack, according to worried experts.

When 33-year-old Norwegian Nazi-sympathiser Breivik went on his murderous bomb and gun spree in July 2011, few imagined the same thing could occur here.

But terrified observers are now warning that the potential for a similar atrocity on British shores is

By NEIL GOODWIN

more likely than ever, and a recent upsurge in race hate crime will herald a new wave of bloody violence.

Force

The stark assessment comes from Professor Nigel Copsey, who is heading up the UK's first research centre into contemporary fascism.

ANGER: Islamic extremism has sparked a rise in hate crimes, like those of nail bomber Copeland (right)

He reckons that there's growing opposition to Islam and immigration, revealing details of nearly 500 anti-Islamic attacks since March. He's worried that the decline of the British National Party as an electoral force, coupled with the splintering of street-based protest groups such as the English Defence League, could lead to a 'dangerous political vacuum' on the far right.

Teesside University lecturer Prof Copsey, 47, fears such a void could be filled by a new 'leader' hell-bent on slaughter.

He said: "We have disturbing levels of hate crime in this country which gets under-reported, and we need to know more about the level to which the far right is involved in this."

"This fragmentation and disintegration of the far right could increase the potential for political violence from small aggressive groups or lone-wolf or sole-actor terrorism."

"We ignore them at our peril because the demand for and the causes of the far right are still with us. They haven't gone away and in some cases are getting worse."

If such a right-wing extremist slayer were to embark on a killing spree in Britain, it wouldn't be the first time.

In 1999 neo-Nazi David Copeland, 36, began a 13-day bombing campaign aimed at London's black, Bangladeshi and gay communities.

Engineer's assistant Copeland, a former member of both the BNP and the National Socialist Movement, detonated homemade devices crammed with 1,500 four-inch nails in a number of pubs, killing three and maiming 139, four of whom lost limbs.

He was convicted of murder on June 30, 2000, and was given six concurrent life sentences.

Meanwhile Islamic leaders say they're becoming more fearful of violent attacks.

Threats

Fiyaz Mughal, the director and founder of Faith Matters, said: "The fact is that in the past six or seven months we have seen more threats of violence online."

"In the past six months we have seen a lot more calls to do something physically to mosques. It is moving from what is happening in their heads to actually doing it."

Blonde-haired Breivik killed 77 people in Norway - detonating a bomb in Oslo before gunning down innocent victims on the island of Utoya.

During his trial he stated that the attacks were in response to Norway's culture being undermined by immigration.

Mel's back door wedding night riddle

FUNNYMAN Jack Whitehall left Alan Carr fans stunned on New Year's Eve when he asked guest Mel Sykes if she'd take it up the BUM!

The Fresh Meat actor, 24, asked gorgeous ex-Boddingtons babe Mel if she would be getting celeb mag OK to cover her wedding to boyfriend Jack Cockings.

When Mel said she wouldn't dream of it, he quipped: "Good! The only time OK should be involved in a wedding is if the groom says 'would it be ok if I stuck it in your bum!'"

Mel, 42, burst out laughing and didn't deny that it could be on the cards on the big night with her roofer fella Jack, 26, who she met on Twitter.

The pair were on Alan Carr's New Year Spectacular on New Year's Eve when they got caught up in the mucky exchange.

And later on the show, Alan asked Mel if she'd read raunchy novel Fifty Shades of Grey and got horny.

Mel said: "I've read them all. It was good, but after the first one the sex gets a bit repetitive!"

What time is love? 8.52pm

SINGLETONS hoping to make 2013 the year of romance will have the best chance to find love online at 8.52pm on TODAY.

Relationship experts say numbers will peak as a record breaking 3.2 million lonely Brits will use internet dating sites this week when they return home from their first day back to work.

Online dating is now the third most popular way to meet a partner in Britain and the cost is even included in government inflation statistics.

Relationship expert Kate Taylor, from match.com, said: "Online dating offers the best possible chance to find the perfect date, and if you make sure you're online during the busiest time of the year you'll have an even better chance of meeting someone special."

THESE sozzled revellers show that this year's festive period has been one of the booziest ever!

One lad ruined his chances of seeing the New Year with a bang by PUKING all over himself on a night out in Bristol.

Our snappa caught this action image of sick streaming out of his mouth as he slumped outside a nightclub doorway.

And this dishevelled blonde took a tumble as she partied the New Year in with her boyfriend.

She fell off her gold stiletto and bashed her knee and had to be carried home by her fella as they partied in Sheffield.

Our snappa said: "She was flashing her gusset to the whole street! It was a good job she'd remembered to put her knickers on."

"Although they didn't leave much to the imagination. She was absolutely steaming! Her poor lad had a right struggle carrying her home."

A recent poll by Nursing UK found 46 per cent of people planned to drink more over the holiday with 62% saying they had no plans to monitor their booze intake.

But a sensible 44% said they would have something to eat before starting their booze session!

Nessa: Truth be told I hit a pesky fan

GRUMPY actress Ruth Jones has admitted TWATTING a stunned fan – in a Tesco supermarket.

The no-nonsense thesp, 46, says she retaliated with violence after being hit by one over-eager autograph hunter.

The brunette, who played Nessa in Gavin and Stacey, revealed: "People think they know Nessa, which can result in over-familiarity."

"In Tesco, not so long ago, a woman hit me on the arm. She said, 'Oh my God, I thought it was you'."

"And I did hit her back. I went, 'Oy! Don't hit me!' Seven o'clock in the morning. Wouldn't you be annoyed?"

"Then I thought, oh my God. And I saw the headlines, 'Ruth Jones Assaults Tesco Worker.'"

VERY BLUE PETER!

BOUNCING: Helen looked boob-iful on Strictly

BUSTY Blue Peter babe Helen Skelton has been handed a jaw-dropping LESBIAN PORN proposal, we can exclusively reveal.

The BBC1 stunna left fans drooling after squeezing into skimpy outfits for the recent Strictly Come Dancing Christmas special.

It was a bouncy performance that has seen Helen, 29, jump to the top of many a man's naughty wish list.

"If she's looking for a new career as a lesbian pin-up, she needs to give me a call." Countryfile host Helen, who has kayaked the length of the Amazon River and trekked to the South Pole for Sport Relief, is well aware that she boasts over-sized jumper puppies.

The beauty, from Carlisle, Cumbria, said she had to have her breasts STRAPPED DOWN to appear on the Christmas Day dancing one-off.

She explained: "I had to ask for more clothes – they were about to send me out in just a bra."

"With my double-D cups, that was never going to happen. I told them I can't do a cartwheel in a bra."

Yanks love pantos.
Oh no they don't!
Oh yes they do!

BORING Yanks are finally starting to appreciate the good old British institution of the panto!

And it's all thanks to former Baywatch babe Pamela Anderson (above).

After 200 years the dozy Americans are realising that pantos are FUNNY.

This year there have been a record 20 pantomimes in the States, featuring the trademark slapstick comedy, audience participation and terrible jokes that have made UK pantos famous.

And busty blonde Pammie, 45, is leading the campaign to educate our US cousins.

She loved her stint as the genie in Aladdin in London three years ago.

Now Pammie and her family stage a panto every year for a select group of pals at her mansion in Malibu.

Panto producer Kris Lythgoe has signed a 10-year deal with a theatre in Los Angeles to stage pantos there.

And he reckons a Broadway panto is definitely on the cards.

A TOP American spy admitted the US may have helped start the Falklands War.

According to information in newly declassified files, the former head of the CIA confessed in private that the Yanks may have inadvertently encouraged Argentina to invade the Falkland Islands.

In June 1982, a month after the Argentinian surrender, Sir Nicholas Henderson, the then UK ambassador in Washington, sent a telegram to the UK Foreign Office about conversations he'd had with CIA director William Casey.

He revealed that Casey had hinted that Argentina may have thought their support for US covert operations in Central America would mean they had Washington's backing for the invasion.

Gary turned his hack on top spy job

SUPER-HACKER Gary MacKinnon has been offered a job as a SPY.

But the 46-year-old, who spent nearly ten years fearing he would be jailed in America for security breaches, turned it down because it involved HACKING.

Gary's mum Janis Sharp told how he was approached for the job at a posh charity dinner in London after being accused of 'the biggest hack of all time' of Yank computers.

She wouldn't say who made the offer but confirmed: "This man is quite an important person."

"It was a big company wanting information on competitors. It'd involve hacking and there's no way Gary would do something like that."

Glaswegian Asperger's sufferer Gary is alleged to have caused £500k of damage hacking into U.S. government computers, "looking for evidence of UFO cover-ups".

The extradition charges were dropped in October last year after they were blocked by Home Secretary Theresa May.

In an interview with Elle magazine the Lost in Translation stunna, said: "I think any woman who is curvy and wears a gown to an event is, like, super-sexualised."

HAPPY New Year, readers - I hope you started 2013 with a bang... like I did!

I was dragged along to a houseparty by a female friend of mine on New Year's Eve.

To be honest, I wasn't really looking forward to spending the evening with a bunch of strangers.

But as the booze flowed, and everyone loosened up, I got chatting to a really fit guy in the kitchen, who I took upstairs to the bathroom just after midnight.

And we did it doggy-style over the sink...TWICE!

Dieting more important than a bonk

WOMEN would rather lose weight than have a BONK!

A survey reveals 52 per cent of women said getting in shape was their top New Year's resolution, compared to just 11 per cent who wanted to have more sex.

Just like Big Brother star Josie Gibson (top) who lost six stone, going from a size 20 to a size 10 through healthy eating and exercise, getting slim is top of the wish list for women.

Out of those quizzed, 27 per cent wanted to lose weight and 25 per cent wanted to work out more.

But the good news is that once women slim down, it makes them want more sex!

Josie, 27, from Bristol says now she's lost weight she can't stop bonking her man, plumber Luke Sanwo.

She said: "I'm a lot fitter in the bedroom than Luke now! Before it used to be all him and I'd be like a sack of spuds. But I haven't got those insecurities any more. It's weird what a new body can do to you."

I LOVE PLAYING WITH MY BOOBS!

BBC film review babe Claudia's amazing confession

BOOB APPEAL: Claudia with BBC film co-host Danny Leigh

RACY telly babe Claudia Winkleman would rather stay at home and play with her boobs than have a full time job.

The co-host of BBC1's The Film Programme in 1977, made the frank confession when she was asked about her part time work.

Fondling

Mum-of-three Claudia, 40, said she'd hate to work full time and added: "I prefer sitting in my bed eating cheese and playing with my tits."

It's not the first time Claudia - who also helps out presenting Strictly Come Dancing - has spoken about her love of fondling breasts because she once admitted she loves fake boobs and likes sticking her face in them.

By ISOBEL DICKINSON izzy@sundaysport.co.uk

Claudia is happily married - but says her mouth waters at the sight of a big pair of breasts.

She said: "False boobs just get rock hard. You see these women and their boobs just look so stunning - you're salivating and want to nuzzle them."

Claudia also admitted her bizarre lesbian crush on BBC sports presenter Clare Balding!

She revealed: "My only crush is Clare Balding. I'm obsessed with her!"

"But apart from that, I don't find anyone else attractive anymore because I'm really old!"

THE KING AM I

Claire from Steps reckons she's reincarnation of Elvis

THE KING: But which one?

STEPS singer Claire Richards thinks she is Elvis Presley!

The tubby pop star was born on the same day that Elvis died and is convinced she is his reincarnation.

Claire, 35, who reunited with Steps recently for a comeback tour, says she doesn't care if people think she's bonkers because she really believes it's true!

The barmy blonde said: "I've had this feeling for years. I was born when Elvis died. We both love to sing, we both love our food, we love glitz and big hair."

And she became even more convinced she is the spirit of Elvis when she visited his USA home Graceland when she was younger.

Emotional

"I went to Graceland years ago and all the pictures I took in that house, not a single one of them came out. They were all blurred. Every other picture on that film was absolutely fine.

"I went a bit funny when I went there. I felt really emotional when I saw his grave."

"People might think I am absolutely mental, but I don't care."

EVER WONDERED WHAT HAPPENS AFTER A MURDER? THAT'S WHEN THE EXTREME CLEANING CREW COME IN

BEFORE*AFTER*BEFORE*AFTER

'You need to have a strong stomach ...you're picking up bits of brain and I once found a piece of lip with the moustache on'

SO you thought cleaning up after your New Year's Eve party was a pain in the arse?

Imagine cleaning up after a MURDER! It's a job that no-one would envy.

Crime scene cleaners walk into grisly situations that few could ever conceive – the blood-splattered and stained rooms of violent or forgotten deaths.

"What's the worst thing you can imagine?" asks crime scene cleaner Paul A.

"That's what I always ask people when they ask me about my job. And people will almost always say to me: 'Shotgun suicide'."

"So I'll say, okay, yes, a shotgun suicide. But what about if that person hadn't been found for six weeks? What if they lived in filth? They were a junkie. They had a pet, an animal that was eating them for weeks.

By JUSTIN DUNN

"That animal died – and then we get called. That might be the worst thing I've ever seen."

The job has work dangers like no other – dismembered body parts, toxic bodily fluids, body 'soil'.

Paul says: "I think people find a lot of things difficult when we're out on jobs, but primarily it's exactly what you would expect to find."

"Blood, pieces of skull, brain, clumps of hair, maggots – all of the insects are very shocking." For the crime scene cleaners, feeling sick is just part of the job.

"I have to get it done," says Paul.

"There's not much choice, is there? It's my job on the line. So I'm going to get it done even if I'm puking in my breathing apparatus."

They face gross situations with a black sense of humour.

"You say maggots, I say money," says Paul's colleague, Maxine.

"This is a job where you can either deal with it or you can't. You have to be strong of mind."

Joke

"Most people think we're crass because we joke about it, but you have to. There are coping mechanisms you're equipped with – and you either cope or melt."

It's a service few members of the general public want to know about until they need it most.

Said Maxine: "It's one of those jobs where you don't want to think about it, you don't want to know about it – unless little Johnny just blew his brains out in your living room, and then you want us there yesterday."

Four-year veteran Sean C* faced a daunting task – a man who leapt in front of a speeding train.

His job is to rid the train of every piece of human flesh, every hair, every drop of body fluid. He combs the undercarriage looking for remains.

Standing beneath the parked carriage, he directs his powerful torch beam upwards and explains: "Apparently this is where our person dived in between two cars, which were travelling at about 50mph in between stations."

"There's a tendency for people to explode when they get underneath a train, so there'll be a lot of cast off body parts."

"I'm just looking at this train coupler here – body parts have a tendency to get stuck in between them."

"Hands, and that sort of thing – it's not uncommon to find pieces of finger, ears, lips and even a lip with a moustache still on it..."

"We do a broad spectrum of severe clean ups. Our 'five' is probably the average person's 'ten' in terms of the severity chart."

After the police and the coroner's officers have done their work, things must be put back in order.

It's gruesome work, but someone's got to do it.

When a life ends in the vicinity of north east England, it's often the cue for Mary L* to start work.

She excels at a job few would consider.

"I go to murder scenes, suicide, decomposing bodies, or any kind of biological incident, and

What price moving maggot-ridden bodies?

THE authorities do NOT pay for homes to be cleaned by trauma scene specialists – that's entirely down to YOU.

Prices depend on the condition of the scene – with costs ranging between £200 and £3,000 depending on the severity of the situation.

In crime scenes of a violent nature – like a gunshot to the head or stabbings – the area could be highly contaminated with blood, brain matter and bone fragments, and even urine or feces – each a potential source of germs, bacteria and infection.

If a decomposing body was removed from the crime scene, the clean-up is even more challenging.

Since the body swells during the process of decomposition, and insects move in through body openings such as the mouth, ears, nostrils and anus, some maggots may still be in the area after the body was removed by the coroner.

Also left behind for the technicians may be body fluids from the liquefied skin and organs that have saturated the carpet or soaked into the floor.

In addition, technicians may have to remove what many describe as the most sickening stench on earth – ammonia gas released from the body.

Under these conditions, the crew must remove any and every trace of bio-hazard material to eliminate the potential for infection.

The clean-up must be thorough since the smallest amount of contaminate left behind could lead to mould or fungus and the potential for disease in a matter of months.

Out with the Auld

KARAOKE fans dumped the traditional Auld Lang Syne this New Year and saw in 2013 Gangnam Style.

Rapper Psy's world-wide hit single topped a chart to find the most sung track in the UK on New Year's Eve.

It accounted for almost a quarter (23%) of the 100,000 songs sung on Monday night on karaoke firm Lucky Voice's online service.

It pushed Auld Lang Syne off top spot for the first time since 2005.

Other top choices were Adele's Someone Like You and Call Me Maybe by Carly Rae Jepsen.

The firm's boss Nick Thistleton said: "Auld Lang Syne has always been the people's choice to celebrate New Year. No song has come close to taking the number one spot until now."

Blokes rubbish at recycling

SINGLE blokes who live alone are the least likely to recycle rubbish.

A study has found that just 65 per cent of people living on their own in the Britain recycle their waste and unwanted items, compared with 79% of mixed-sex couples.

Of those living alone, 69% of women claimed to recycle some of the time, whereas just 58% of men said they did the same.

More than 2,000 single men and women and 3,000 couples were asked about their routines as part of the study for Understanding Society – the UK's biggest survey.

Hazel Pettifor, who led the research, said:

"Women are probably doing more than their fair share."

"It is likely that women are emptying and rinsing out containers, removing lids and labels and sorting waste, while their menfolk make the fortnightly trip to the bottle bank or put the bins out."

PORNO NO-NO

BLUNDERING bedroom romances who try to act out scenes they've watched in porn movies are the number one turn off for babes, according to a survey by the Internet Woman's Forum.

GRIM: The heavily protected cleaners get to work on the crime scene clean up and restore the situation to the condition it was in before the incident took place," she says.

"Yesterday, I was dealing with a suicide – a married man with three children who took his own life with a gun."

"I had to explain to the wife that I'd first have to look at everything and, once the appraisal had been done, get on and start with my job."

Then Mary had to grapple with the horrors with what lay beyond the bedroom door. With help from colleagues, all dressed in full contamination suits and breathing apparatus, they strip blood and brain-soaked sheets from a double bed.

Stain

They must look closely – what seems to be a tiny stain may be masking a hidden mass of human residue.

"It can drip through and be much larger underneath than it is from the top surface," she says.

"Obviously if we can't properly clean something then we remove it, and we dispose of it as medical waste."

Sometimes the cleaners have to remove threats to health, like needles.

Other times they try to shield survivors from yet more heartbreak.

"We take high-powered lights and check and recheck and recheck to make sure that we have everything so that when the family comes in, they won't have to deal with something unexpected."

"We're looking to see if there is any overspray of blood, any tissue, teeth... there could be anything."

"There are times where you find actual body parts, like a nose or somebody where they shot themselves, their eye."

She pauses and looks down at the floor. "Okay, right here, that's a piece of skull..."

"You have to search everywhere to make sure there is absolutely nothing left behind."

Mary has been cleaning up after death for 11 years. It's a profitable business and now one of her three sons is helping his mum out.

She started out working with the local coroner's office transporting bodies, but soon progressed.

"We started having people ask us, if there was a murder for instance, could we clean it up – and to perfectly honest I didn't think I could."

"However, I turned around at one point and agreed to give it a go. We thought it would be a bit of a sideline at first. We certainly didn't expect there'd much of a need for a service like that."

But the market for clean-up crews grew with surprising speed and Mary quickly became comfortable in her grisly role.

She added: "I have to say if you're going to be cleaning for a living, this is much more satisfying than being a hotel chambermaid."

But despite her heavy schedule she too says she tries to remain upbeat.

"The best part of my job is when we have people say what a difference we've made."

"People really are grateful for what you do. After they've found themselves in that situation they realise what it would be like if they had to do it."

Horror

There are companies like these dotted across the country, working out of unmarked vehicles that arrive discreetly at scenes normally expected only in nightmares or horror movies.

They'll arrive at budget hotels where secretive drug deals have turned into fatal knife fights.

They lift dirty needles from filthy squats and the floors of takeaway outlets' toilets.

They clean up from the homes of crazy hoarders who have stuffed their homes top to bottom with slowly decomposing crap and then died beneath it.

A sinkful of blood from where someone's slit their wrists is not uncommon.

When human claret has been lying around for a while, it's as dark as a plum and feels like jelly.

"But it doesn't smell like jelly – more like the floor of an abattoir."

Paul said: "It's strange because when people find out what I do for a living, they normally make some sort of comment about it being the worst job in the world."

"Don't get me wrong – it does have its moments! I remember once having to help remove part of a flat floor when an elderly man who'd been dead for a long time had half melted through it."

"The acid in his abdomen had drained down through his body and into the floor, and had spread on to the ceiling of the flat below."

"The poor old guy's heating had been left on and he was there for about six weeks before his body was found."

"The neighbours below had complained about the stain and of course the smell."

"When we arrived at the scene upstairs it was pretty bad, not least of all because of the heat and all the flies."

"But once you've helped restore a place, once it's all cleaned up and no-one without prior knowledge knows what has happened there, then I can feel quite proud of what we've achieved."

"People are always going to die and sadly quite often they'll die alone."

"Not everyone we clean up after is necessarily a messy suicide, but it's a part of the job that it does happen from time to time."

"All that said and done, I can't imagine doing anything else. For all the perceived grisliness of it, it's actually a really satisfying job."

"Names and circumstances have been changed."

BADGER BURGERS, CAMERON'S GAY LOVER AND A MR BLOBBY SEX TAPE!

By JON LIVESEY

jonl@sundaysport.co.uk

IT'S a good job the Mayans were wrong and the world didn't end - because 2013 could be great!

The last 12 months have provided enough saucy scandal to keep tongues wagging for a lifetime.

And it's always going to be difficult to top an X-rated celebrity sex tape, dead paedo and the resurgence of kinky chains and whips thanks to Fifty Shades Of Grey inspired "mommy porn".

But according to the Midweek Sport crystal ball, this year could be even more sensational!

As predictions are made for 2013, we've produced our very own almanac.

Here's what we think might just happen over the next 12 months.

Bloppy blooby knobby

JANUARY

STOKE City manager Tony Pulis labels Michael Owen "Sicknote" after the striker is ruled out for the season with a freak paper cut injury sustained while taking down Christmas cards.

The comments alert former injury-plagued Tottenham winger Darren Anderton, who launches legal proceedings for copyright infringement over the use of his nickname.

FEBRUARY

DETECTIVES investigating the Jimmy Savile abuse claims reveal he behaved 'inappropriately' with Orville The Duck.

According to cops, the Jim'll Fix It host targeted the nappy-wearing duck while his owner Keith Harris was busy calming down Cuddles The Monkey, who was throwing a tantrum.

They also confirm plans to speak to Sooty, Sweep and Sue as part of their investigation.

MARCH

POLITICIANS overturn a ban on fox-hunting and vote in favour of legalising badger-baiting.

In an added twist, renowned badger welfare campaigner Brian May says, "If you can't beat 'em," before organising a badger-baiting team-building exercise with his Queen bandmates.

He also reveals plans for a joint business venture with recent collaborator Dappy, which will see the pair open the UK's first fast-food restaurant with badger on its menu.

APRIL

CAGE-fighter Alex Reid has a sex change. The Celebrity Big Brother star lops his Johnson off and lives full time as alter-ego Roxanne.

It leads to reconciliation with ex-wife, Jordan, and the pair marry again - this time as lesbians.

MAY

BOWS and arrows make a comeback in the US after gun laws are tightened.

Hardware stores are told to lookout for people planning to make their own weapons.

And Robin Hood Prince Of Thieves actor Kevin Costner is slammed by anti-violence groups for offering to pass on his archery skills to novices as part of a new business venture.

JUNE

MEMBERS of '90s pop group Steps say they fear for the long-term welfare of bandmate Claire Richards after mags are banned from promoting "miracle" diets.

JULY

CLUB 18-30 announces plans for summer holidays in Antarctica by 2020 after scientists reveal the ice sheet is warming twice as fast as previously thought.

The trips upset Argentina who claim they are taking place on their land.

But when they invade they are driven back by a combined force of drunken builders from London, six Scouse electricians and two warehouse workers from Barnsley.

AUGUST

EDUCATION bosses blame the rise of texting and social networking after the GCSE English pass rate falls below 50 per cent.

It reveals more than half of 15-year-olds believe "2nite" and "wiv" are actual words.

Deputy Prime Minister Nick Clegg decides to improve pass rates by changing dictionaries to make text spellings correct.

SEPTEMBER

X FACTOR chiefs replace Tulisa with Mr Bloppy.

According to sources Simon Cowell feels he connects more with the audience.

But he's sacked after a sex tape emerges of the Crinkley Bottom star giving a blow job on the tea cup rides in Alton Towers.

He is replaced by the dog from The Artist.

OCTOBER

PM David Cameron takes his support for gay marriage one giant step further by announcing his engagement to camp comedian Alan Carr.

The Tory leader says: "Some might say we're like chalk and cheese, but it just works."

NOVEMBER

HEALTH and safety bosses enforce a nationwide ban on bonfires and firework displays.

Reformed "Firestarter" Keith Flint, from The Prodigy, signs up as the face of the campaign. The first ever digital fireworks displays takes place in London.

DECEMBER

CHRISTMAS is cancelled in the UK after the norovirus returns with a vengeance.

Conspiracy theorists claim the Mayans were a year early in predicting the apocalypse after 99 per cent of people in Britain are struck down with the horrible winter vomiting bug.

Grumpy comedian Jack Dee hails it the "best December ever".

Obama in anal sex song riddle

US President Barack Obama has been caught up in an anal sex riddle.

The 51-year-old sang along to Led Zeppelin's classic rock anthem Whole Lotta Love during the annual Kennedy Center Honors event in Washington DC.

He was seen clearly mouthing the words "want a whole lotta love" during the chorus.

But it's unclear whether he joined in with the famously rude lyrics "Shake for me, girl. I wanna be your backdoor man" and "I'm gonna give you every inch of my love".

Rocker Lenny Kravitz performed Whole Lotta Love as a tribute to the surviving Led Zeppelin members.

Fat's a bad sign, docs and nurses

TOO many doctors and nurses are FAT and should be offered stomach-stapling surgery, say experts.

The Royal College of Physicians claims chubby medics set a bad example to patients and should be given counselling and dietary advice.

The Department of Health estimates that more than 50 per cent of NHS employees are overweight.

Tam Fry, from the Child Growth Foundation, rapped: "How can they expect people to look after themselves when the people dishing out the advice are overweight."

Celebrity Deal Or No Deal babes strip off

THESE WILL PLEASE THE BANKER!

GLYNIS BARBER

SEXY actresses Joan Collins and Glynis Barber will have Noel Edmonds wondering "feel or no feel" when they appear on his hit TV game show.

The sizzling screen stars appear on a special celebrity edition of Channel 4's Deal Or No Deal tonight.

And if Noel, 64, casts his mind back to some of the ageing duo's saucier performances from their younger years, he will almost certainly be blushing behind his closely cropped beard.

If you tune in to watch Deal Or No Deal at 6.30pm on C4, you'll see former Dynasty minx Joan, 79, and EastEnders stunna Glynis, 57, covered up in their finest threads.

But they haven't always been so well behaved – because they both share a topless past!

Nympho

Posh totty Joan stripped off while playing cock-hungry nympho Fontaine Khaled in The Stud, the 1978 movie adaptation of her sister Jackie's racy novel.

She revealed her pert breasts in a steamy pool orgy scene.

And Glynis – who starred in Albert Square as Roxy Mitchell's mum – aired her boobs in Michael Winner's 1983 British movie The Wicked Lady.

A show insider said: "Noel was still a randy young man when Joan and Glynis were in their prime and there's a good chance he'll have seen their boobs on screen."

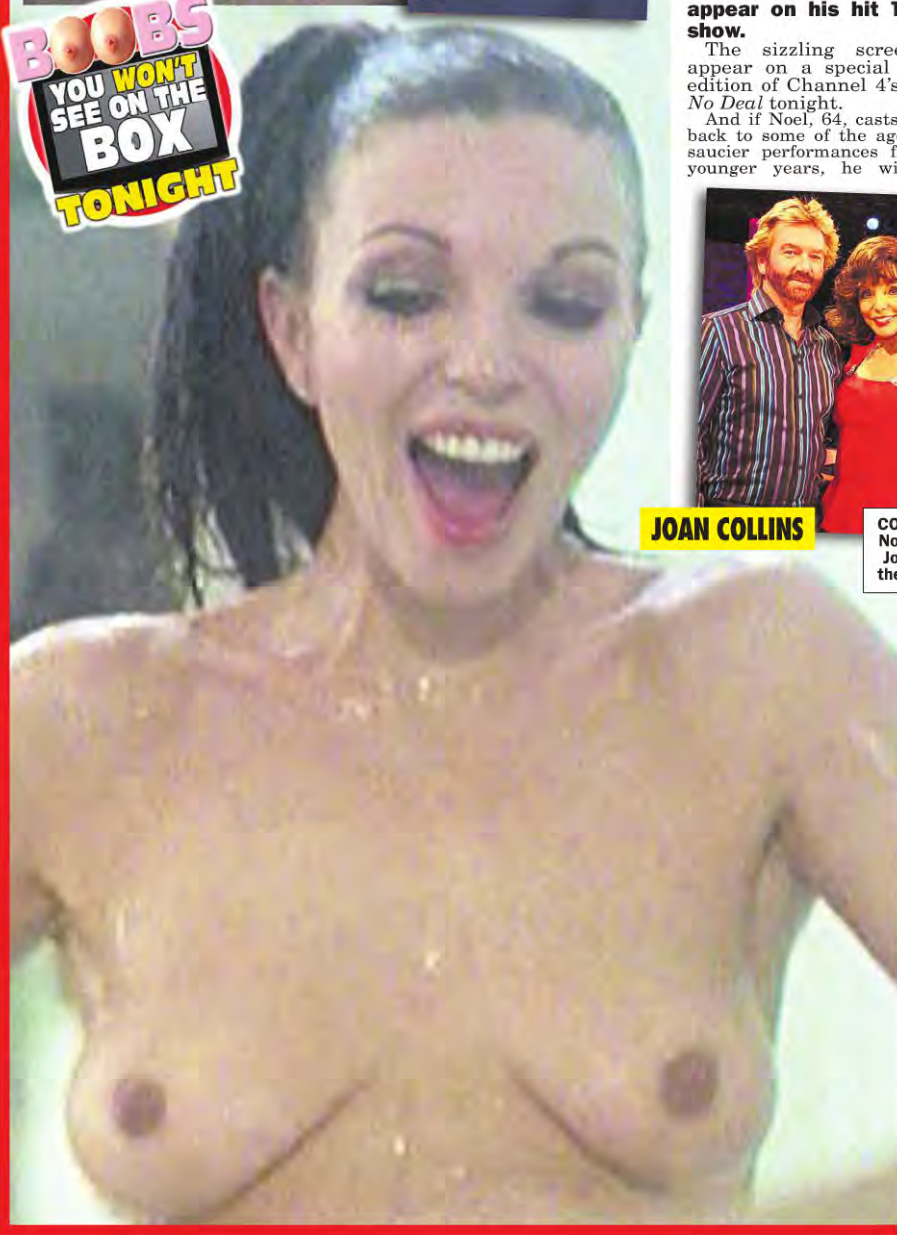

"Hopefully the cosmic ordering he believes in so much won't send too much positive energy to his nether regions – or things might get a little bit embarrassing for him."

I've done a lot of naughty stuff in public!

LEAH FRANCIS IS ADDICTED TO RISKY OUTDOOR BONKING

By JON LIVESEY
jonl@sundaysport.co.uk

IF you're in the countryside look out for Leah Francis – because she loves sex in the great outdoors!

The busty blonde, who sports a pair of impressive 34GG bra-bustin' boobs, is a self-confessed exhibitionist who loves bonking, especially when there's a risk of getting caught!

But the Southampton stunna, 25, is equally adept at spicing things up in the privacy of her bedroom, often with the aid of her extensive collection of kinky sex toys and outfits.

In an interview with Midweek Sport, she's opened up about some of her biggest turn-ons.

DO YOU LIKE SEX OUTDOORS?

I'VE done a fair bit of naughty stuff in public because it's always a big thrill.

For intimacy, a bit of naked slipping and sliding in water is always great, so sex in a pool or in the sea is one of my favourite activities.

TELL US ABOUT THE BEST SEX YOU'VE EVER HAD....

I WAS in Thailand in February and put on a great display of sea naughtiness.

There were people on the beach who could see what was going on! Mind you, that type of thing is like an everyday activity for me.

WHAT'S YOUR ULTIMATE TURN-ON?

I'VE always been a fan of naughty drives out to the countryside in the dark and parking up where you think no one is watching, even in the winter.

IN WINTER? WHAT IF IT'S FREEZING?

IT doesn't matter if the weather's awful, because you soon warm up!

WHERE'S YOUR FAVOURITE PLACE TO HAVE SEX?

ONE of my favourite spots is a rugby field in Brighton, which is an ideal place to pull up and hang out of the side door!

It's a big risk because you can get a passer-by or cyclist catching you out – but if you're brave enough, you just keep going!

DO YOU EVER WEAR SEXY COSTUMES TO SPICE THINGS UP IN THE BEDROOM?

I LOVE the smell and feel of rubber and latex – even having a dentist's rubber gloves in my mouth turns me on! I guess that's why dressing up and role play are both a must for me.

I'll only wear good stuff though, like a figure hugging latex skirt that's revealing around my bum – with a zip on the crotch for easy access!

WOW! AND WHAT ABOUT KINKY SEX TOYS?

I'VE got plenty of sex toys and I never leave home without my little vibrating bullet.

I'm always up for experimentation, but the bullet is definitely my favourite. Let's just say it's compact and fits in all the right places!

DO YOU HAVE A FAVOURITE SEXUAL POSITION?

I'M a big fan of being on top because as well as letting me take control, it also allows me to incorporate the bullet!

And if I spin around into the reverse cowgirl position, it guarantees the lucky guy a truly awesome view!

SO YOU'RE DEFINITELY NOT SHY THEN?

THE girl next door thing would never work for me – I'm too dirty for that!

LOOK WHAT KUBWA CAN DO FOR YOU...& HER!

"I HOPED IT WOULD WORK BUT I WAS AMAZED BY HOW WELL IT WORKED!"

"THIS IS THE PRODUCT WE'VE BEEN WAITING FOR FOR YEARS"

"IT WORKED WITHIN THE HOUR...& JUST KEPT ON WORKING FOR HOURS!"

It's true – babes
in high heels
ARE more sexy

WOMEN look good in high heels, according to an absolutely obvious new study by science boffins.

The vast majority of red-blooded males already know that females wearing leg-enhancing shoes look sexy.

But researchers at the University of Portsmouth have now confirmed that ladies in heels are "more attractive" than those not wearing them.

Writing in the journal Evolution and Human Behaviour, the egg-heads wrote: "We suggest that high heels may exaggerate the sex specific aspects of the female walk which could cause sexual arousal in males and make women aware of potential competitors for mates."

Another expert said: "No sh*t, Sherlock..."

Dear Sir/Madam, you're about to be murdered...

POLICE warned 1,700 people last year of a MURDER plot against them – over 50 per cent more targets than three years ago.

Senior officers nationwide sent letters to businessmen and women, drug dealers, gang members and even politicians warning them their lives were in danger.

The letters are sent when police have specific intelligence of a murder being planned but not enough evidence to make an arrest.

Many of those warned move home, while others are taken into the witness protection programme or live under increased police patrols and have emergency response alarms fitted.

Strathclyde Police in Scotland issued the most warnings last year – 506.

Lincolnshire Police sent out only one letter, North Wales two, and Merseyside Police three.

The number of warnings made by Greater Manchester Police soared from 22 in 2010-11 to 130 in 2011-12.

SCENE OF THE YEAR

I THOUGHT I'd fallen asleep after one too many whiskies when Dr Who babe Jenna-Louise Coleman flashed her boobs in the posh – and otherwise dull – BBC Four drama Room At The Top.

Because let's be honest, it wouldn't have been the first time she'd had a starring role in my dreams.

Jenna-Louise finally whipped 'em out while playing prim and proper Susan Brown in the two-part series back in October, but she'd been building up to this moment for years.

I'd been a fan since she cranked up the temperature with her racy lesbian kiss in Emmerdale.

And now she's playing the Doctor's assistant, Oswin Oswald in the BBC1 show, there must be sci-fi fans with sonic screwdrivers twizzling wildly out of control all over the UK.

Apparently, Jenna Louise is from Blackpool. If the town wants to spruce up its famous illuminations, its bosses should project this boobs-out picture across the skyline – that should do it.

ALL CHANGE: Jenna-Louise takes over from Karen Gillan (inset)

Britain's top critic reviews the year

Batchelor ON THE BOX

2012 gets a

AH, 2012...the year that placed a gold medal around British TV's neck, then slowly twisted the ribbon until its face went blue.

The London Olympics was a perfect 10 for the BBC, showing us what Auntie can achieve when she puts her mind to it.

Unfortunately, it also reminded us what utter garbage she spouts for the rest of the year.

And after the raw drama of the Games, hyped-up toss like ITV1's X Factor and I'm A Celebrity...Get Me Out Of Here! or Channel 5's Celebrity Big Brother looked feeble and faker than ever.

"Now we have tasted the TRUTH," we cried, switching off our televisions and venturing outside, "we will never settle for your filthy lies again!"

Then it got a bit chilly so went back inside and switched it on again, if only to admire the way Helen Flanagan's boobs wobbled when she sobbed.

We love telly, even when it's shite. In fact, ESPECIALLY when it's sh*tte. So let's relive a golden year on the box...even if a lot was Fool's Gold.

JANUARY

THE Christmas turkey had only just run out when Channel 5 launched Celebrity Big Brother. Talking of dried-out old birds, Denise Welch won it.

The show also featured gay ex-rugby player Gareth Thomas, who made friends with Hollywood actor Michael Madsen – mainly because he'd heard the American knew where to find Free Willy.

FEBRUARY

PACKAGE holiday sitcom Benidorm returned to ITV1, sponsored by a German drink. Several English firms wanted the honour but Bavaria Lager Shandy had already put its towel down.

Meanwhile, on Emmerdale the Bartons' romantic getaway went tragically wrong, with a strapped down John begging Moira to "stand on me". That might have been OK in the Harrogate Travelodge but not in an upturned Land Rover dangling over a cliff edge.

MARCH

NEW BBC1 talent show The Voice kicked off with its four judges singing, "I've got a feeling that tonight's gonna be a good night." Which just goes to show you should not always trust your gut instincts.

BBC1 also launched a new game show, In It To Win It.

"I've got two people in my red area and three more waiting to join in," said host Dale Winton. Sounds like a standard Saturday night for him.

APRIL

ALL channels did their bit to mark the 100th anniversary of the Titanic disaster, in which 1,502 people died.

Perhaps the most touching tribute came from ITV2's The Only Way Is Essex in which fat Gemma stripped off for a topless portrait, a la Kate Winslet in the movie.

Sadly she looked more like the other star of that film – the replica ship. The only difference is that Gemma would never touch an iceberg. Or any other type of lettuce.

MAY

GLAMOUR model Katie Price (aka Jordan) appeared on Celebrity Deal Or No Deal – and found £250,000 in her box.

Unfortunately she had dealt at £16,000 but it still beat the last time she opened her box on camera. All she found then was some fella's big toe.

Soccer Aid on ITV1 saw Teddy

JUNE: QUEEN

JANUARY: DENISE WELCH

Sheringham finally top that equaliser in the 1999 Champions League final. His brutal foul on Gordon Ramsay will live forever.

JUNE

EURO 2012 saw England go out on penalties again. But, hey, that was probably a good thing, according to ITV4 talking head dross Eurogeddon: Why England Shouldn't Win Euro 2012.

That show should really have been called *Jason Manford: Why You Shouldn't Get Caught W*inking Over A Stranger's Tits On The Internet*. The poor guy has gone from The One Show to The One Viewer.

Luckily, the nation did have some cause for celebration. We got to watch the Royals standing on a freezing boat, getting piss-wet through, for the Queen's Jubilee.

JULY

BRITISH athlete Mo Farah became the first person to complete all seven stages of ITV1 game show The Cube. Yeah, but what has he done since?

Only joking. He won a couple of races in the London Olympic Games – which were pretty fing awesome all round, from the Opening Ceremony right through until...well, just before the Spice Girls got involved in the closing ceremony.

AUGUST

BBC1 killed the post-Olympics feelgood vibe in record time by bring Sharon back to EastEnders. From the greatest show on earth

Jacko tops for putting the willies up you

POP legend Michael Jackson is the celebrity that people would most like to haunt their homes.

The Thriller singer, who died aged 50 in June 2009, has topped an online poll of sought after celebrity ghosts.

More than 2,000 were quizzed for the survey and picked the King Of Pop as their favourite, saying he would be the most entertaining.

Wacky medium Derek Acorah once claimed to have spoken to Jackson from beyond the grave in a live TV séance and fans claim they have seen his ghost at Neverland.

In a documentary screened after his death, his ghost was said to be seen moonwalking across his 'privacy room.'

The top five were:

1. Michael Jackson
2. Kurt Cobain
3. Princess Diana
4. Patrick Moore
5. John Lennon

MIDWEEK

I SUFFER from kleptomania. But when it gets bad I take something for it.

Polite burglar knocked first

BRITAIN'S politest burglar has been jailed for five years after admitting he always KNOCKED on resident's front doors before breaking in.

Wayne Timmins, 32, stole thousands of pounds worth of valuables from 25 houses – but was caught due to his habit of checking if anybody was in first.

A court heard that rather than smashing his way in, Timmins would knock on the front doors to ensure he wasn't about to scare homeowners, before picking the lock.

But he was arrested after a resident recognised him walking up to a property in his home town of Brierley Hill, West Mids. and called police.

Astonishingly, Timmins, described in court as "remarkably honest", even took cops on two drive-bys after his arrest to point out where he had carried out the crimes.

Timmins was jailed for five years at Wolverhampton Crown Court after it emerged he had racked up a staggering 110 offences.

Abi gave up one-night stands for 2013... she lasted 37 MINUTES!

I WAS SO HORNY I BEGGED HIM TO BONK ME!

PROMISE: How Abi revealed her New Year resolution

SEX-MAD Abi Harding vowed she was giving up SEX with STRANGERS for her New Year's Resolution – but lasted just 37 MINUTES!

The sexy brunette developed an eye for the fellas and an appetite for no-strings nookie after bonking a staggering 46 strangers over the last year.

And she's living proof that once you pop you really can't stop – because she didn't even last an hour into her self-imposed romp ban.

Waitress Abi, 21, decided to start off 2013 with a vow to stay away from casual sex for the rest of the year.

But the lusty lass couldn't even make it 60 minutes into the New Year without getting her rocks off!

The sexpot, who told about her clean-living New Year's resolution in Sunday Sport last weekend, was diagnosed with hyper-sexuality last year.

And everything seemed to be going okay – for a few minutes at least – as she toasted her New Year vow plan at a pal's house party on Monday night.

But after a first plug of wine, her libido starting stirring when she clapped eyes on a local hunk.

Abi, from Cleethorpes, Lincolnshire, explained: "The second Lee strolled in in his skinny jeans I knew I was bang in trouble.

Moisten

"I've had a crush on him for about six months.

"Even as he walked across the room I had to clench my legs as I could feel myself getting horny. I knew I was going to break my promise.

"About half an hour later I went upstairs to use the bathroom and when I came out he was standing outside.

"He told me he'd come to get his New Year kiss and leant forward and grabbed me. I could feel him digging into my hip.

"I just couldn't help myself and I pushed him into the spare room and onto a pile of coats.

By ISOBEL DICKINSON

izzy@sundaysport.co.uk

"I unzipped his jeans, pulled out his cock, moved my G-string to one side and eased myself onto him.

"The fact I'd promised myself no more one night stands just spurred me on. It was like the forbidden fruit – and I liked the taste.

Fondling

"As he moved around and started to drill me in the doggy position whilst fondling my breasts the last thing on my mind was the bloody resolution.

"I'd like to say I feel pretty bad that I only got 37 minutes into the year without shagging someone.

"But it was probably one of the best fs of my life, so I couldn't care less!"

Meet the girls tipped for the top this year

By JUSTIN DUNN
justin@sundaysport.co.uk

IT'S doubtful many readers will have a New Year resolution to cut down on the number of boobs they look at.

And a good job, too, as a fresh new batch of bra-less beauties has been waiting in the wings to entertain you throughout 2013 and beyond!

Blonde, brunette, tall and short, the girls are queuing up to battle it out for the title of BREAST British pin-up!

Some are wearing pants, some aren't, but one thing's absolutely guaranteed – these stunnas will have you salivating right up until next year – and for more years after!

Can't wait to meet them? Nor can we...

ALL THE BREAST FOR 2013

SUMMER ST CLAIR

SHIMMERING Summer hails from Horsham in East Sussex, which, in case you hadn't noticed, includes the word "sex".

Asides from the fact you'd moonwalk bare-footed over razorblades just to get an inch closer to her fabulous 32C boobs, she has extra hidden talents, too.

"I used to be a gymnast and I've recently taken up pole dancing," she says.

"I can do the splits, walkovers and lots of bendy things on the floor. They're good skills to have in the bedroom!"

NINA EVANS

NUBILE Nina hails from Eastbourne – but admits she couldn't wait to get out and head for the capital.

"As soon as I finished college I hopped on a train and ran away to London, sleeping on people's sofas and living out of a suitcase," says the 32D beauty.

"Then London city took me under her wing and corrupted me with all its lights!"

The single girl says her favourite part of a fella is his chest. Funny you should say that, love...

JESSICA KINGHAM

GORGEOUS Jessica has an ambition we'd like to see her realise – by taking part in a photo shoot with none other than Kelly Brook.

For this snap the 32F babe had to make do with Chloe Goodman – but we doubt anyone's complaining!

The Camberley cutie is in any case a sucker for a lad who likes a good laugh.

She admits: "I always say that if you can make a girl laugh you can make a girl do anything!"

IMOGEN GREY

BLONDE Imogen's cracking 34C boobs and hazel eyes are enough to make us go weak at the knees.

And the Birmingham-born babe says she's delighted about it, too!

"There's something very vulnerable about a man who admits to having feelings," she says.

"Of course I like a man to be a man, but there's nothing wrong with showing a softer side, too."

CHLOE GOODMAN

CURVY Chloe has a special trick that keeps men mesmerised.

The Brighton belle revealed: "I can move my boobs just by flexing my pecs. I can do a booby dance to a beat!"

The 32C pin-up added: "My deal bloke has to have loads of banter and jokes. I love spontaneous guys who make me laugh."

GET down to yer nearest PRIVATE SHOP for the sex offer of the new year!

It's one thing for stores to sell-off their older stock to make room for new releases but we've done a deal with Britain's biggest and best adult shopping chain to bring you ALL January's top new release titles at a massive THIRD OFF the already low price.

Yes, all ten titles are available exclusively to Midweek Sport readers at just £20 each! Remember, these are brand new R18 titles from the top studios and leading directors and can sell for as much as £50 each.

R18 is the certification awarded to hardcore pornography in the UK and these titles are only available to broad-minded over 18s from licensed sex shops like the Private Shops chain.

You can't buy genuine hardcore from mail order so you'll have to go to one of the shops. But as there's over 100 across the UK there should be one close to you. Just have a look at the list below.

You can choose from any of these amazing titles from September's new release top 10:

■ Busty D's Big-breasted stunnas are greedy for c and happy to lap up the last drop of come in this BBW classic.

■ Glazed Teens The freshest faced newcomers are drenched in multiple sperm loads. Mmmm!

■ Valory Irene's Wet Dream The huge-breasted superstar doing what she does best. A boob loving classic.

■ Stocking Tops Porn legend Viv Thomas delivers another high-class, super sexy lesbian extravaganza.

■ Angel Face Natasha Marley is a high rolling, ball licking, c sucking criminal mastermind. Watch her f her way to the top.

■ Bluebird Auditions Gagging deepthroats! Squirting! Wide mouthed facials! Bluebird brings you young smoking hot babes aching to be put on film.

Indecent

■ Tight Rider A hilarious hardcore spoof of the old David Hasselhoff Knight Rider TV series. Great story and amazing sex scenes

■ Tokyo Cream Puffs 6 The cream once more streams from young hairy vaginas and spills onto the once clean white sheets of the country's capital.

■ Ss On The Clock Watch as these dirty little office girls engage in all sorts of indecent sexual frenzies, all to impress their perverted bosses.

Woman went flamin' crazy at ex-lover

A CRAZED woman set fire to her former lover and his new squeeze while they were asleep in bed.

Nicole Dobol, 29, allegedly told a pal she started the fire because seeing her ex in the sack with another woman "made her crazy".

The trouble started when Dobol went to the Florida restaurant where her former fella worked and bumped into his roommate.

He told her that her ex had already gone home, but begged her not to follow him.

But she ignored the warning and forced her way into his apartment – and found her former lover asleep in bed with another woman.

According to cops, that's when Dobol lost the plot and set the mattress on fire.

When the pair woke up to flames, Dobol allegedly stood there and taunted them.

The couple escaped without injury by dragging the burning mattress onto a balcony and putting out the fire.

Dobol has been charged with arson and burglary.

MIDWEEK

WHEN the Ring showed up in The Shire, that was an unexpected item in the Baggins area.

Robbers grassed up on their mobile!

BUNGLING female robbers talked themselves into jail after accidentally making a phone call.

Ashlie Alewine, 22, and her 18-year-old sister Nakilya Wright tried to rob a hotel in Florida by demanding all the cash in the till at the reception.

But after fleeing the scene they dialled the front desk by mistake from a mobile phone – and the clerk on duty overheard the sisters talking about the robbery.

She soon realised she recognised both of the women's voices – one as Ashlie, a former employee of the hotel who had been sacked a few days earlier.

The other voice she identified as that of her sister Nakilya, who had done the talking during the robbery.

After being identified by the hotel receptionist, the sisters were arrested.

THAT'S NOT PERRY NICE!

Pop babe Katy loves teasing the lesbians

CURVY Katy Perry has told of her lesbo lust for gorgeous babes.

The pop stunna shot to fame singing about having rug-munching tendencies in her hit song, I Kissed A Girl.

And now, she's confirmed her penchant for saucy girl-on-girl action.

She said: "Girls are better kissers because they know what they want."

"I'm the only person who has the balls to say so."

"Agyness Deyn is a little punk-rock Lolita – beautiful face, beautiful shoulders. I look at her and wonder what's turning me on. What's happening?"

Dating

Katy, 28, married Brit comic Russell Brand in 2010, but the couple got divorced last February. The sexy songstress is now dating American singer-songwriter, John Mayer.

But she's admitted to chatting up sizzling hotties in the past.

When asked if she's ever been hit on by a woman, she said: "Only when I go to gay clubs."

"But I hit on women too. Beautiful ones. I'm very attracted to cool, alternative women."

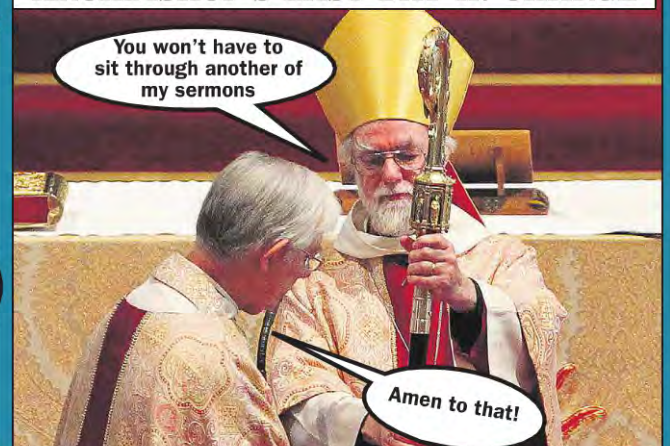

"But I'd only have a drink with them. I'm such a tease."

IS THIS THE BEST WAY TO SELL UNDIES, LOVE?

Bar Refaeli flogs her knickers ...by posing NAKED!

By ISOBEL DICKINSON
izzy@sundaysport.co.uk

SUPERMODEL Bar Refaeli might need to re-think her sales tactics for her undies range.

The Israeli beauty has taken a cheeky approach to flog her saucy pants – by not wearing any at all.

But when a woman looks this good in the nude, who cares about the knickers.

In the snaps for her new lingerie collection Under.me, Bar strips off in front of a bathroom mirror as she parades her stunning figure.

Comfortable

And in other shots, the former squeeze of Hollywood star Leo DiCaprio enjoys a soak in the bath and gives a glorious side-view of her curves.

Speaking about her undies, Bar, 27, said: "I feel I look my best when I'm comfortable. Especially when it comes to underwear."

"My underwear is the clothing closest to my body. I want it to complement it, not steal the show."

"There is nothing better than simple, comfortable, quality clothing."

Or apparently none at all, it seems.

Kerry: I want my own clinic, but I'm skint!

CARING Kerry Katona says she wants to open a REHAB clinic.

But the Celebrity Big Brother babe says she's too SKINT, having blown thousands of pounds on her own drug addictions.

Red-faced Kerry, 32, revealed: "I would love to set up a 'reborn' centre for women on medication and try helping them get off it."

"It will be an exercise-based facility that's for women who can sit there and discuss their problems and come away for a week. Like a retreat."

"I'd love to do that, but I haven't got the money!"

Meanwhile, Kerry says you don't have to be mad to buy her new autobiography Still Standing, but it helps.

She explained: "There's people with mental illness who I'd like to read it and addictions and people who are going through bankruptcy or money troubles or divorce."

"I've done it all."

CARDIFF? IT'S A RIGHT DIVE!

Fury after Olympic star's blast

PARTY! Fun-loving Cardiff upset by Tom

TEEN Olympic pin-up Tom Daley dived into trouble after spending New Year's Eve in Cardiff – then telling his fans: "Don't ever go."

Olympic bronze medallist and World Champion Tom, 18, flew into a row after lashing out about his night on Twitter.

He tweeted: "Definitely not going to go to Cardiff for New Year again. People say it's a good night out. I can assure you it isn't."

Earlier he wrote: "Cardiff, what a let down for New Year. Don't ever go. Everything shuts at 1. Error!"

But Cardiff-based athlete Jamie Baulch defended the Taffs – proud of their reputation as party-lovers.

Baulch replied on Twitter: "You went with all the wrong people!! Tom, whenever you're in Cardiff speak to the people in the know."

And MTV The Valleys star Anna Kelle added: "Agree with Jamie. Places I go don't shut at 1!"

Daley had been in the city's Tiger Tiger club and after his tweets, the club replied: "We are open until 4am. Where were you?"

Reveller Adam Williams, 24, said: "Everyone knows Cardiff is a party capital – Daley must have dived into the wrong place at 1am."

"Mind you, at his age perhaps it was past his bedtime anyway."

LINSEY DAWN

By JESSICA HAWORTH
jesica@sundaysport.co.uk

IT MIGHT be freezing outside, but these busty beauties will keep you warm!

Gorgeous celebrity women have been keeping their fans' toasty by posting a host of sexy snaps on social networking sites like Twitter and Instagram.

Sport Legend Linsey Dawn McKenzie, a 34GG, seduced her fans with this ultra-sexy flash of her bum and side boob.

Celebrity Big Brother star Georgia Salpa, 30F, teased her followers with this cleavage-busting snap on her beach holiday.

Redhead reality star Holly Hagan showed off her 32DD chest with fellow Geordie Shore housemate Sophie Kasaei. Pin up beauty Lucy Pinder, a 32G, looked sensational in this hot lingerie snap which she shared with her thousands of followers.

While pop babe Rihanna posted this cheeky bum snap with a slight glimpse of her 34B side boob.

And Israeli model Bar Refaeli, a 34C, snuggled up in her pyjama bottoms and bra for this cosy post-Christmas snap.

WHAT'S ANNOYING HIM THIS WEEK? JUSTIN DUNN'S ROOM 101

IT'S always sad when someone passes away, especially if it's a TV character you grew up with. So a fond farewell then to Jack Klugman, the nice old fella who used to play Quincy. I'm sure he'll live on through his jelly.

SCIENTISTS spent a fing fortune camping out in Antarctica while preparing to drill down through more than two miles of ice into Lake Ellsworth, where they hoped to find evidence of life. Then they realised they hadn't taken enough fuel with them, and had to call the whole thing off. Couldn't they have set up a few wind turbines around the fing permanently windy ice cap? Of course not – they'll happily spoil the view of every hill and dale in Britain, but god forbid they'd ever upset a frigging penguin.

How do these tossers end up with awards?

KNOW anyone who's helped an old lady across the road in the last twelve months?

How about a bloke who does a neighbour's shopping or runs the mower across your lawn when they've got a minute?

Yep, me too. This country has them by the bucket load.

But did you see anyone like that getting knighted in the so-called Queen's New Year Honours list? Did you f?

I'm not arsed about last year's Olympians and Paralympians getting gongs because they frankly deserve a pat on the back – or letters after their name, if they prefer.

But when you read about some of the other cs getting rewarded by the establishment the blood begins to boil.

Take Hector Sants. Actually, take him as far away as you possibly fing can.

This is the c who was head of the Financial Services Authority when Northern Rock went tits up, precipitating the near-collapse of the nation's economy.

A pretty dire time for which we're all still suffering, I'm sure you'll agree. So what's his punishment?

David Cameron

A fing KNIGHTHOOD for services to financial regulation!

What next? Gary Glitter for services to tourism?

It's ultimately the Prime Minister who signs off these annual group wk awards.

No wonder everyone thinks he's a tosser.

CLASSIC Sport STUNNAs
VIKKI THOMAS

THIS
IT'S...

MODEL turned TV presenter Vikki Thomas enjoyed an illustrious six year career as a topless model – thanks to the Sport!

Appearing in our titles and in some of the most popular magazines around, Vikki went on to become the face of several modelling campaigns including Prada, Lippy and Pipex.

Vikki, now 33, got her big break when she was spotted working on an exhibition stand and asked if she fancied modelling.

She moved from Weston-Super-Mare and was soon a familiar sight in the world of modelling.

Ambition

During that time, she built up a reputation of being one of the most desired yet glamorously friendly models within the fashion world and now within TV and film.

With her natural ambition, presence and talent, Vikki made her debut film appearance in 2001 playing a supporting role to her

By JUSTIN DUNN

childhood favorite star John Hurt in the movie Tabloid TV.

Vikki's bubbly and charming personality won her many TV roles, including Channel 4's Make My Day and The Cowboy Trap, and then later on BBC1's Spy TV with cheeky ex-England footballer Ian Wright.

A big supporter of charity work, Vikki actively supports Arthritis Research Campaign and Cancer Research. She also supports the Sick Children's Trust and the Help For Heroes Campaign.

In 2009 she ran the Race for Life as a "face for Cancer Research" at Hyde Park and also took part in "Celebrity Stars Behind Bars" at The Embassy nightclub, helping to raise over £5,000 for the Sick Children's Trust.

Vikki has recently formed her own media company where she commonly writes and reviews treatments for shows.

Her interests include her family, friends, her dog Calvin, work, keeping fit, shopping, fashion and music.

WITH the footie season in full swing you can now sit back and watch the beautiful game's pampered prima donnas.

But in our Head The Balls feature, we're reminding you of the violent nutters, randy rebels and peacocking playboys who, over the years, have graced us with their presence over the years.

Every week we'll be looking at a different one of the sport's most mental mavericks.

This week it's bow-legged Brazilian, Garrincha...

UTTER DRIBBLE: Garrincha won the World Cup twice with fellow Brazil star Pele (above)

LEGEND has it that superstar Garrincha lost his virginity aged 12 – to a GOAT!

He was born in Pau Grande, in Rio de Janeiro, in 1933, with a deformed spine.

The lad's right leg was also bent and his left one was two inches shorter than the right.

The star's real name was Manuel Francisco dos Santos but he was given the nickname "Garrincha" – which means "Little Bird" – on account of his swaying walk which was a symptom of his deformities.

Bestiality

And if the constant bird jibes weren't to blame for driving him to bestiality, maybe it was the fact that he was a heavy drinker from the age of just 14.

Miraculously, neither prevented him from becoming one of the GREATEST players of all time.

Less famous now than his fellow countryman Pele, mainly because his best moments came before satellite television, Garrincha played as an outside right – or winger.

According to the man himself, he only chose the position because it meant he'd be the furthest away from his father, who was dead against him pursuing a career in the beautiful game.

Garrincha is thought by many to be the best dribbler that football has ever seen, losing just one game for his 50 international caps and winning two consecutive World Cups, in 1958 and 1962.

But off the pitch his life was as messed up as his weird legs.

He acknowledged being a dad to 14 children – one of whom he fathered during the 1958 World Cup campaign in

By NEIL GOODWIN neil@sundaysport.co.uk

Sweden. And he was rumoured to have had 26 more.

Garrincha also had consistent money troubles, not helped by his taste for the drink.

Once, in 1959, he hid £2,500 under a pillow only to forget about it. He later discovered the cash again, but it had all rotted thanks to his alcoholic induced bedwetting.

Booze also got him into trouble with the police when he ran over a 10-year-old boy and his father while drunk.

And he later killed his mother-in-law in a crash.

It was the demon drink which ultimately killed the star. Aged 49, the Botafogo legend died of cirrhosis of the liver.

Mourned

His body lay in state in the Macarena stadium where he was mourned by a whopping 150,000 people.

Describing the man's talent, his 1958 World Cup winning captain Bellini said: "The news of his death took us by surprise, although we knew his health was not good."

"He didn't manage to get over the drink problem."

"Perhaps we won't see another like him for 100 or 150 years."

Film legend attacks Army pig shoots

AN award-winning filmmaker has slammed the Ministry of Defence's involvement in using live pigs as part of battlefield training for medics.

Oliver Stone (above), known for films such as JFK and Wall Street, wrote to defence headquarters to protest against British participation in the exercise.

The Vietnam war veteran, 66, urged Defence Secretary Philip Hammond to put an end to the 'cruel' use of animals in training for battlefield surgery.

In a letter addressed to Hammond, US director Stone wrote: "Pigs are very intelligent beings – just like the dogs and cats with whom millions of us share our homes. "Using them as targets and cutting them apart is barbaric and shameful."

Formerly known as Operation Danish Bacon, the training involves shooting the pigs with high-powered rifles and then operating on them at a Nato facility in Jaegerspris, Denmark.

The MoD has already claimed that the training exercises helped to save lives on the battlefield.

Feel better with a nice piece of smelly cheese!

EATING blue cheese can actually make you healthier, scientists claim.

Findings suggest that eating smelly cheese such as Stilton can keep you looking YOUNG and cuts the risk of heart disease and arthritis.

Tests conducted by Cambridge biotech firm Lycotec found that mouldy cheese contains anti-inflammatory properties.

They reckon the cheese can be used in anti-ageing creams to fight wrinkles and old age – perhaps without the smell, though.

Experts claim the healthy properties are the answer to why the French enjoy good health despite the high fat found in their staple diet.

THE LOWDOWN

FAVOURITE UNDERWEAR

I have a gorgeous Victoria's Secret lace corset which I love to wear with suspenders and stockings. It's really sexy.

BIGGEST TURN-ON

I love kissing when you're so into it that you're grabbing each other and tearing clothes off – and kissing on the neck. That always works!

IDEAL MAN

Someone hot, funny and experienced. I've kissed enough frogs in my time, I'm looking for someone who knows exactly how to treat a woman.

SEXIEST OUTFIT

A little black dress and sky-high heels. I keep a little to the imagination by covering my cleavage but showing my legs. Then, if a man's lucky, he can see the rest.

'There are so many positions – I never get bored in bed!'

By JESSICA HAWORTH

jessica@sundaysport.co.uk

KINKY Kyla Cole has revealed she loves bonking outdoors – and she doesn't mind if members of the public watch!

The 36DD scorch, originally from Slovakia but now living in Lambeth, south London, says she is a natural born exhibitionist.

And the 33-year-old says she gets a sexual kick out of getting her kit off in front of people!

Here the bisexual beauty also opens up about her love of girl-on-girl action and why being with another woman is the ultimate "sensual" experience.

WE HEAR YOU'RE A BIT OF SHOW-OFF. It's true – I can be a bit of an exhibitionist.

I was in a nightclub celebrating a friend's birthday recently and the stripper didn't show up.

I decided with another friend to do a nude striptease for them instead. The look on the bartender's face was priceless.

I just thought, 'Why not?' But it was only one song and that was it. It was something special.

YOU SAY YOU'RE BISEXUAL... DO YOU PREFER MEN OR WOMEN?

Making love to a woman is more sensual, tender, full of the taste of the forbidden and ecstasy.

Women arouse burning desire inside of me. Sex with another woman is so soft, gentle and so hot.

Two girls licking each other's love fluids is an image that turns me on instantly. You know what they say – only a woman knows how to please another woman.

But I still prefer men. I think a little bit of both is what it takes to keep your sex life exciting.

You shouldn't just limit yourself to just one sex. How boring would that be?

ARE SLOVAKIAN WOMEN ALL AS GORGEOUS AS YOU?

I've heard that the most beautiful girls ONLY come from Slovakia!

Of course, it's a nice feeling to know that people like you. And I think girls from eastern Europe do have a certain look – very sultry, feisty and voluptuous.

Slovakian women are very confident, too, and not afraid to show off their bodies. I mean, what's to be embarrassed about? We're all naked under our clothes.

I love having sex in public places. If people see me, so what? I actually get turned on by the fact that other people might catch me nude. It's so naughty and very exciting.

DO YOU GET RECOGNISED BY FANS?

Yeah, quite a lot. They always say things like 'You're shorter than I thought' and many men are too terrified to come up and talk to me!

I won't bite – come and say hello. In fact, I once flashed my boobs at a policeman to get let off a speeding ticket!

I'm a good driver usually, but one officer pulled me over in Slovakia and asked me to pay a fairly high penalty. I used all my tricks and after he'd seen my boobies I got away with just a warning.

WHAT ABOUT MASTURBATION?

Yes please! I don't understand people who say they don't masturbate. It's crazy!

I remember one male friend who decided not to masturbate throughout one whole summer. It nearly drove him crazy!

I personally masturbate couple of times a day, even when there is a man to be with. I found out men like to watch me doing it. Why not when it gives me so much pleasure?

WHAT WAS YOUR FIRST TIME LIKE?

I don't remember my first kiss, but I DO remember the first time having sex.

I was 19 and I'd been waiting for the "right guy". Waiting paid off.

It was beautiful. He was caring and gentle and I loved sex right away.

I realized what I had been missing and started to experience more.

ARE YOU ADVENTUROUS IN THE BEDROOM?

I am willing to try almost anything. As I said, I love doing it at public places. Anytime I feel like it and when a man is at hand.

I love the feeling of having a man inside me. I'm a very highly-sexed person. Sex is very, very important to me so I like to experiment.

WILLY SIZE?

Honestly? It does not matter how big it is. The only thing that counts is how well the man can use it.

And I'm not just saying that to make your readers feel good!

FAVOURITE POSITION?

Probably me on top. I like to be in control in the bedroom. There are so many different ways you can do it – facing your man, doing it in reverse... I never get bored.

Don't get me wrong, I do like to let a man do the work from time to time. But if I'm on top we both reap the benefits!

I know guys love to watch me on top, they always tell me how great the view is.

ANY ROLE PLAY EXPERIENCES?

I love dressing up and pretending to be someone else in the bedroom.

It adds an extra excitement which is a massive turn-on. I've done quite a few in the past – secretary, nurse, policewoman. I really enjoyed that one because the outfit came with a pair of handcuffs.

This year I dressed up as a sexy Mrs Claus and gave a few naughty presents to my man.

Catts fail to stage purr-fect bank robbery

A FAMILY of Catts were left licking their wounds after robbing a bank.

Ronald Catt, 50, son Hayden Catt, 20, and 18-year-old Abigail Catt (above) were found guilty of one of six robberies they were suspected of.

Police claim Ronald (below) and Hayden entered the bank wearing orange traffic vests and carrying guns – with the son even sporting a fake moustache.

Teen robber Abigail allegedly drove the getaway car waiting outside the building in Texas.

In August, two men wearing similar disguises were seen carrying out a similar raid at another bank in the area.

Police also seized CCTV evidence which shows the two Catt men buying vests and masks from a nearby Home Depot store.

The three Catts now face jail.

'Rough sex' toy store woman sues boss, 60

A FEMALE toy store manager claims her boss forced her into having "rough" sex in exchange for promotion.

Amanda Reyes, 26, says she was subjected to a "master-and-servant-like" relationship by 60-year-old Steven Reis.

The single mum alleges the sessions "included increasing acts of rough sexual activities, including hitting, slapping and biting".

Even after the woman started dating a cop, married Reis allegedly demanded she meet him at her New York flat for sex twice a week.

Reyes is suing Reis after he allegedly sacked her when she tried to break off the relationship.

Reis claims the accusations are "false".

Well, I hope you've had a good Christmas and New Year...have you been playing the good father, the loving son or the attentive husband? I bet you have!
But inside you're not like that are you? You're just a pathetic little prick who wants a woman like me, a woman you'll never have, to tell you exactly how worthless you are.
You won't be upset by this though, will you?
No, you'll get all excited and that little dicky of yours will get all hard when I talk to you. Eventually you won't be able to control yourself and you'll lose it all wishing you could do it over my perfect 34B boobs, my lovely flat tummy or my beautifully curvy bum.
I bet some of you would like to do it over my face and maybe make me cry by getting some in my eyes.

SCHOOL MISS BONKS BOY, 17

Biology teacher arrested after claims of an affair

By JON LIVESEY jonl@sundaysport.co.uk

A HIGH school teacher has been arrested after claims she bonked a male student.

Police launched an investigation into the conduct of biology teacher Stephanie Suggs Millard after receiving information that the 33-year-old had been involved in a sexual relationship with the boy.

According to officers, the affair had taken place between March and April last year when the boy was still 17-years-old and a student at her school.

Millard gave herself up to cops last week.

She has since been charged with having sex with a student under the age of 19.

Violating

The alleged affair took place at Spain Park High School, in Hoover, Alabama, where it is a felony for any school employee to engage in sex acts with a student under the age of 19.

Police spokesman Capt Jim Coker says Millard is charged with two counts of violating that law.

She is being held in Hoover City Jail waiting for transfer to Shelby County Jail.

And she no longer works for the Hoover City Schools system, having resigned on

RESIGNED: Millard

December 13.

Cops say the boy has since finished school and is now attending college.

Verena's Position of the Week!

THE REVERSE HEADSTAND
"Usually it's my fella standing up - but swapping places means once I've tucked his cock safely in, I can really bang away at him. It's the closest a woman can get to shagging like a man. But you've got to be quick as the blood drains away to his head!"

Dear Jemma,

I'VE met a fantastic woman and our sex life is great.

But she has a daughter of 23 who came home drunk one night last week.

She fell down on the floor as she came in and when helping her up I accidentally touched her pert 34D boobs.

I felt my cock twitch as I lifted her on to the couch.

Her mini-skirt rode up and before I knew what was happening my fingers were in her wet fanny.

She sat up, eased my cock out and gave a great blow-job.

Next I rolled her over on to all fours and took her from behind.

She squealed with delight as I spunked again.

Now she wants a regular seeing-to, but I think it's a bit risky. What do you think?

JY, Kent

Jemma says...

TELL her it was a one-off, because it's not fair on her mum.

Stag trip shags get bride gagging for wild sex

Dear Jemma,

I MUST be the luckiest fella in the whole world.

I'm 23 and due to get married to a stunning 22-year-old model with long legs, natural blonde hair and amazing tits.

I went on a stag night with the lads to Amsterdam and couldn't believe it when my bride-to-be said she didn't mind if I shagged a few hookers.

I was like a kid in a candy shop. I chose a red-head in suspenders and a peep-hole bra and she soon had my balls in her mouth.

She was w*nking me off while sucking my nads and even got a sly finger up my arse too. I soon exploded.

I then chose a big busty black girl and had anal sex with her while fingering her fanny.

To cap it off I then paid for two girls – a slim blonde and a dirty-looking brunette. It was amazing as one sucked my length while the other squatted over my face frigging herself off.

Then I got my cock up the blonde while the other one was licking my balls and arse.

While I was banging the hookers, a mate of mine was filming the event for posterity.

When we got back my future wife begged to know what I'd got up to and she was really turned on when I explained.

She was so horny for it I decided to show her the video.

This got her creaming like nothing else and she was soon on my cock, going at it like a steam train.

Now she wants to have her hen night round our place and get all her sexy mates round to shag me.

While this might sound like something not to be missed, I'm afraid it would get our marriage off on the wrong foot.

What do you think?

EH, Southampton

Jemma says:

YES, I can see your problem – NOT!

What's wrong with you? Your wife-to-be is laying on a slap-up sex feast and you're too frightened to get stuck in.

Wife makes meal of blow-job

Dear Jemma, YOU wouldn't believe it but my wife of 25 years has never given me a blow-job.

I read your paper every day and there are always fantastic tales of women giving head and it drives me up the wall.

I've tried everything – the vacuum cleaner, smoked salmon, a melon with a hole in it and photos of Sport stunnas. But it's not the same.

I've talked to the wife about it but she says it's disgusting. She won't let me lick her fanny either, by the way.

I read about flavoured condoms and wondered if you can get them in apple pie and custard – her favourite food, the fat bitch.

Maybe that will persuade her. What do you think?

TR, Glasgow

Jemma says: YOU'D be better off going to see a sex therapist with her.

Dear Jemma,

YESTERDAY, all my troubles seemed so far away, but now my hubby has found out I've been screwing the milkman.

I'm 23 and my hubby is 26 and a bit of a wimp – unlike the milkman who is hung like a horse. It's all I can do to get my gob round his donger.

Every morning he'd cover me in fresh cream and lick it off before ramming home his 10-incher and making me weak with pleasure.

But the other morning my hubby had forgotten some papers from work and came back to see the milkman licking my clit and rubbing cream into my knockers.

He stormed straight out but that evening came home with a bag full of outrageous items from a sex shop. He said if I wanted to be a slut he'd treat me like one.

So now he makes me dress up in crotchless panties and pleasure myself in both holes with a dildo, while he w*nks off in my face. To be honest I quite enjoy it but I think he may be losing his mind.

What do you reckon?
DW, Manchester

Dear Jemma,

I WAS sat on the sofa having a sly one off the wrist thinking about that Susannah Reid off the news when I opened my eyes and saw my female neighbour looking in the window.

Just as I caught her eye I spurted the lot over my trousers. To my surprise she walked in and started to lick it off.

As she was doing this she hitched up her skirt, pulled aside her panties and started masturbating.

Pretty soon I was hard again and screwing the crap out of her. I spurted the lot all over her arse.

Now, however, she's started to get very friendly with my wife and I'm scared she'll spill the beans. What should I do?

GT, Herts

Jemma says...

THE best thing is to tell your wife what happened and then try to arrange a threesome.

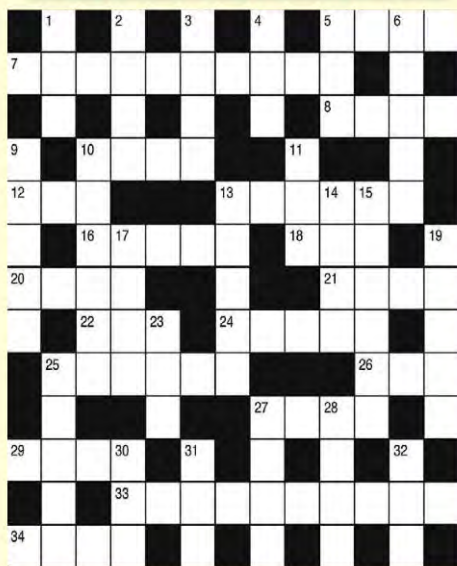

Jemma says... GET it while you can.

THE VOICE OF CRICKET CMJ FALLS SILENT

CRICKET

TRIBUTES have been paid to "the voice of cricket" Christopher Martin-Jenkins, who died from cancer on Tuesday aged 67.

Born in Peterborough, Martin-Jenkins joined the BBC as part of the Test Match Special team in 1973 having had a modest cricketing career.

He worked as the BBC's cricket correspondent twice, between 1973 and 1980 and then between 1985 and 1991, while also commenting on the network's television coverage between 1981 and 1985.

Martin-Jenkins was the Daily Telegraph's cricket correspondent from 1990 to 1999 and then moved to the Times, where he was succeeded by former England batsman Michael Atherton in 2008.

He was diagnosed with terminal cancer in January 2012, shortly after returning from covering England's tour of the United Arab Emirates for TMS.

Jonathan Agnew, who spent many hours with CMJ covering cricket for the BBC, said: "He was one of cricket's most respected writers and broadcasters."

Authority

"With modern media now preferring the views and experiences of former Test cricketers, Christopher's authority and respect was gained not through a high-profile playing career but a deep-rooted love of the game."

"It's doubtful if anyone has contributed more in a lifetime to the overall coverage of cricket than Christopher Martin-Jenkins."

Ex-England all-rounder and current broadcaster Sir Ian Botham said on Twitter: "Very sad to hear of the death of the Major... Christopher Martin-Jenkins. A true Gentleman!"

Martin-Jenkins was given an MBE in 2009 and served as the MCC's president in 2010 and 2011.

Current president Mike Griffith said: "Everyone at MCC shares the sadness that his commentaries will never be heard again."

DARTS

DARTS great Rod Harrington reckons Michael van Gerwen and Adrian Lewis will dominate the game in 2013.

Dutch baldie MVG was last night lining up against Phil Taylor in the world final, while double global king Lewis is showing signs of recapturing his best form.

Harrington, a former world matchplay champ and now a commentator for Sky, said: "I think these two guys could be the next two to dominate."

"Phil Taylor is still playing brilliant darts, but at his age he'll be looking to ease down, while Raymond van Barneveld has got some form back too."

"But Lewis and Van Gerwen have got 20 years in front of them. 'Adie' hasn't had a great year but, like Van Gerwen, there's no limit to his talent."

"He'll be hurting because he's a double world champion and he's lost his crown. It's time to put darts above everything else apart from his family."

CUTTING THROUGH THE BULLSHIT EVERY WEEK

10 resolutions to cure footie

IT'S new year so it's a fresh start. Time to dream up some things that will never happen, then carry on making the same mistakes as last year.

Keeping up the spirit of bullshit resolutions, here are my 10 to put the smile back on the face of football.

If any of them happen I'll show my arse (and you don't want that, believe me).

1. BAN MANAGERS FROM TALKING ABOUT REFEREES

Half of the moaning bastards use the men in the middle as an excuse for their own f---ups. Then the fans take the lead from the managers and give the officials shit. Then the officials are shit scared to do their job and cock up. Then the managers really have something to moan about. It's time to smash the circle. Gag the self-serving touchline roamers and let's get on with the game.

2. MAKE THE OFFSIDE RULE NICE AND SIMPLE

All this second-phase bullshit, what's the point? Even the managers and the players are struggling to get their heads around it, never mind the fans. Imagine how refreshing it would be for the rulemakers to hold their hands up and admit they got it wrong. No chance of that happening then.

3. PAY FOOTIE FANS TO COME UP WITH ORIGINAL SONGS

Every high street looks the same. Every new football ground looks the same. Sky

FLAK OFF: Managers should be forced to stop moaning about referees

Sports presenters look the same. And now every f---ing footie song is the same. "He scores when he wants..." "We do what we want..." "You know what you are..." etc etc. F---. RIGHT. OFF. Anyone who dreams up another song to the f---ing tune of Sloop John B by The Beach Boys should be made to spend a month with Garth Crooks. That'll learn yer!

4. MAKE THE GAME AFFORDABLE

There's a generation of footie fans growing up thinking going to the game once in a blue moon is the norm. That is only the case because for most supporters of top-flight clubs it's around 50 sheets a game or getting on for a GRAND for a season ticket. That's frankly bonkers. The grounds are being filled with foreigners and hooray Henrys – but the bubble will burst. One solution is introducing cheap safe-standing sections to grounds. It's an option that should be seriously considered.

5. PUT MARK LAWRENSEN OUT TO PASTURE

The miserable old goat has had his day. Shit shirts, shit jokes, shit analysis. Pundits are supposed to add something to the viewing experience, but "Lawro" has most footie fans reaching for the noose. He commentates like he is being forced to wipe a tramp's arse rather than being PAID eye-popping wages to watch top-level football. Oh, and his predictions are shit, too.

6. SCRAP THE SCANDALS

Football is supposed to be an escape from the daily grind. It's supposed to be fun, a laugh, entertainment.

Instead, it's a magnet for whinging bastards who like to bang on about morals every Monday morning. F--- off. Talk about the game, about what players do with the ball – the good stuff. Forget the rest. It's boring and no-one's arsed.

7. END THE PREMIER LEAGUE OBSESSION

While everyone falls over themselves to bash one out about how good the "EPL" is, clubs are going to the wall further down the pyramid and kids are increasingly being turned off from the game. The millions that wash around the Premier League need to be filtered all the way down to non-league and junior football for the good of the game.

8. STOP F---ING SHOUTING

What is it with Sky Sports and TalkSport? I'm quite happy to watch and listen because of the subject, so why the f--- are you shouting at me? It's bizarre. If a bloke spoke to you like that down the pub, you'd drop the nut on the loud twat.

9. BIN ROBBIE SAVAGE

No explanation required. Go on then – he's a cunt.

10. BIN MICHEL PLATINI

SAVAGE CUT: Give Robbie the boot

AFTER a phenomenal year in the tipping stakes, success on the track, starting here at this brilliant newspaper and going on TV I am a little sad that 2013 has come to an end!

It truly was a magnificent year but who knows maybe the next 12 months could be even better. Tomorrow sees the first coverage of 2013 on RPGTV and BRITANIA ARDBEG ticks all the right boxes. She has a great draw, is in form and there is plenty to like about Ken Tester's bitch - she should take the world of beating.

TODAY'S ACTION LIVE ON BAGS
Live action from Newcastle and Hove is screened into betting shops nationwide. Without doubt they provide us punters with a stern test. We may just be able to pass that test today with flying colours but I promise you, it is not easy.

RPGTV THURSDAY HOVE AND HENLOW
Without question for me Hove is the number one track in the country and we will be concentrating on the Sussex track in many of the columns as it has been a very happy hunting ground in the past.
Every Thursday though it is partnered up with Henlow – very much an unsung hero. They don't half put on some cracking cards, tune in from

AUSTRALIA – SILVER CHIEF CLASSIC

Twelve months on, he is exactly that a superstar one of Australia's very best and he lines up in Group 1 Silver Chief Classic on the fifth of this month. My Aussie contacts have asked me to place some money on him in the UK. He is 2-1 with Best365.

ALL THE LATEST ON TODAY'S

Gerrard's sure he'll Kop some exciting times

STEVEN GERRARD insists there is much to look forward to in 2013 – despite Liverpool's up-and-down form.

The Reds have struggled for consistency in the first half of the season and start the new calendar year in mid-table.

Brendan Rodgers' side face Sunderland tonight looking to record back-to-back wins for only the second time this term after Sunday's win at QPR.

But Kop skipper Gerrard insisted: "There's plenty to be positive about. I'm excited by this Liverpool team and I genuinely believe we are moving in the right direction."

"There will be a few blips along the way, like the Villa defeat, because we are a very young squad."

Virus

"But clubs are defined by how they react to adversity and I know this group shares plenty of character and togetherness."

"As a collective, we will learn and we will get better."

"The league position needs to be improved and that needs to be our focus."

"But we've got games in two major cup competitions to look forward to in the second half of the season as well."

Liverpool's build-up has been disrupted by a virus sweeping the dressing room.

The bug caused boss Rodgers to miss Sunday's

DROUGHT: Larsson

3-0 win at QPR, while keeper Brad Jones and head of performance Glen Driscoll were also struck down.

Gerrard and Luis Suarez were among a group of players told to stay away from Melwood on Monday to prevent the virus spreading.

Rodgers will be forced to make at least one change after Jose Enrique suffered a torn hamstring against QPR.

Sunderland midfielder Seb Larsson is desperate to end his eight-month goal drought.

The Swede admits he should be doing more to help his side's midfield goal output – even though he's been asked to play a withdrawn holding role by boss Martin O'Neill.

Larsson is determined to get back among the goals after the 2-1 home defeat by Spurs stalled the Black Cats' mini recovery of three wins in four games.

He admitted: "It's a while ago that I last scored and I must admit I'm disappointed that I haven't scored so far this season."

"It would be even more disappointing if I went through the entire season without scoring a goal. It's down to me to change that."

"The debut goal I scored at Anfield is probably the best goal I've scored for Sunderland."

Tough

"Hopefully, I can go there and do it again – it would be a nice time to get back on the scoresheet."

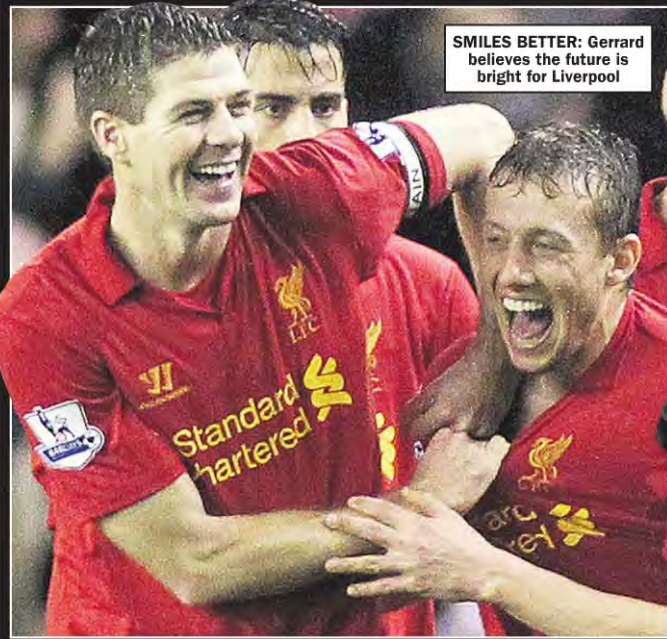

"To be honest, the position I'm playing in doesn't help when it comes to scoring. It's a more withdrawn role, a holding role, so I'm not popping up on the wings as much."

Sunderland are seeking their first win at Anfield since 1983, with Larsson hoping to catch the Jekyll and Hyde Reds on an off day.

He added: "You expect a tough game there."

"Some weeks they look like an absolutely top team. Other weeks they lose games where you can't understand how."

ALAN PARDEW wants the calendar to be cut short after Newcastle's disastrous end to the year.

After guiding his side back into Europe thanks to a stunning fifth place finish in May, Pardew has seen things go downhill with a nightmare run of eight defeats in 10 games.

Pardew insists that despite the sting in the tail, it's been a good year – as long as you don't include the last two months.

A shortened 10-month 2012 would suit the St James' Park boss, whose paper-thin squad has been caught out by a string of injuries to key stars.

"My New Year's resolution is to win more games – that would be nice," said Pardew.

LAMPS IN RUSH TO WIN TITLE

Frank fancies Chelsea charge to overtake Manc rivals

CHELSEA v QPR

Kick-off 7.45pm

FRANK LAMPARD reckons Chelsea's title charge is back on.

The midfielder struck twice in the 2-1 win at Everton – and the Blues will attempt to build on that result against bottom club QPR tonight.

Rafael Benitez's side are on a charge after winning seven of their last eight games.

And with four league wins on the bounce, Chelsea are ready to crank up the pressure on top two Manchester United and Manchester City.

Attitude

Lamps said: "We have to keep believing. There is a long way to go and things have changed around."

"It can only happen if we win our games, but if we go on performing like we have done in the last few league games and keep doing that, it's all we can do."

"We need to keep this form and this attitude."

Chelsea are without keeper Petr Cech, who came off at half-time at Goodison with an adductor injury.

Ross Turnbull has started

BELIEF: Redknapp insists QPR will beat the drop only four league games since he signed from Middlesbrough in 2009, but Chelsea defender Gary Cahill is confident the 27-year-old is an able deputy.

He said: "Ross came in and looked like he had been playing regularly, so we have a top keeper to come in."

Looking forward to the challenge posed by QPR, Benitez said: "For us, it's just to recover quickly and be ready."

"They are in a difficult position and that means they will be more dangerous."

"So we have to carry on doing our job and focus on the things that we are doing well and trying to improve the things that we're not."

"It's a team that is fighting to avoid relegation and it will be a totally different challenge."

"But our idea is to play in the same way, to play good football if we can, and if we can't at least show some character."

But Benitez does not expect to be able to call on skipper John Terry, who is still struggling with a knee injury.

The Chelsea boss added: "He's getting closer but we have to wait and see every day when he is training with the physios and we will see. I think QPR is too early for him."

Harry Redknapp was left to pick up the pieces after his side's disastrous home defeat by Liverpool.

The Rangers manager insisted his side could still stay up after the thrashing – but he also admitted they must improve dramatically if they are to close the eight-point gap to safety.

Redknapp is hoping to strengthen his squad to boost their hopes.

He said: "If we can find the right players, get one or two in to make the difference, and get Bobby Zamora fit..."

Ragged

"He would give us a target up there and he could make a difference."

"It's about quality, not just mentality. People can watch a game and say there's a lack of effort, but when you're being run ragged it's not always about a lack of effort."

"I just believe we will stay up. I just feel we can still turn it around. If we can get one or two in now it can still make the difference and we can do that."

"The next two games, Chelsea away and Tottenham at home, are difficult games. But I still think we'll do it."

OUR LIVES FOR 10 MONTHS and December out of the equation, it was really a great year for the club.

"Unfortunately, you can't take them out of the equation, so next year we've got to put 12 good months together."

"Even so, it has been a decent year, I look at this group of players and know that, if they were all fit, we would be in such a great position."

"With injured players set to come back, I think there's light at the end of the tunnel."

Everton boss David Moyes is content with having little cash to splash in January, even though that could cripple his side's Champions League dreams.

Moyes has seen his squad depleted by injuries to Darron Gibson, Phil Neville and Kevin Mirallas, while the Toffees have also had to contend with Marouane Fellaini's recent suspension.

The Belgian (right) may return to action today, but Leighton Baines and Steven Pienaar are doubts.

Moyes respects the club's hierarchy, who have to run the club on a strict budget.

He said: "You cannot complain. If you don't have it, that's it. We don't have it."

"The chief exec has come out and said there is a very small amount available and that is what I am saying."

"Maybe a couple of loans if we could come up with them."

"I joined Everton and I knew what it was about. I have no problems."

CHAMPIONSHIP ROUND-UP

WATFORD 3 CHARLTON 4

JOHNNIE JACKSON struck the winner as Charlton edged a seven-goal thriller at Vicarage Road. The Hornets were stung by Jackson's 78th-minute header that handed Charlton their first win in seven games. Watford led via Daniel Pudil's low drive before Charlton hit back with Tommy Hoban's goal and Yann Kermorgant's header. The hosts led midway through the second half thanks to Almen Abidi's penalty and Alex Geljo's strike.

But Chris Powell's men levelled via Kermorgant before Jackson pounced from a corner to win it.

BLACKPOOL 0 HULL 0

STEVE BRUCE'S unbeaten run goes on – but too much of this game was as flat as leftover champagne. Hull's players couldn't manage a belated birthday win for Tigers boss Bruce, who turned 52 on New Year's Eve.

Their promotion charge stalled despite boasting the best away record in the division but their undefeated spell has now stretched to eight games.

MILLWALL 2 BRISTOL CITY 1

ADAM SMITH'S spectacular volley gave Millwall all three points. The right-back, on loan from Tottenham, smashed home 15 minutes from time after Liam Trotter headed James Henry's free-kick into the air.

Dany N'Guessan's first goal of the season had given Millwall the lead in a one-sided first half.

Robins boss Derek McInnes made a double change before half-time and it looked to have turned things around when Jon Stead poked home an equaliser from Albert Adomah's flick.

But Smith's cracker won it for the Lions.

PETERBOROUGH 2 BARNLEY 1

TOMMY ROWE'S late winner lifted Posh out of the drop zone and left managerless Barnley still bottom. Craig Davies should have put Barnley ahead but Posh keeper Bobby Olejnik saved.

Michael Bostwick fired Peterborough ahead in the 28th minute with a long-range blast.

Barnley, who sacked Keith Hill last week, saw striker Chris Dagnall hit a post before sub Marlon Harwood levelled in the 78th minute.

Rowe won it with a cracker from the edge of the box.

Moritz free-kicks are simply Brazil-iant!

SAMBA star Andre Moritz lit up Selhurst Park as his double helped Palace stroll it.

The Brazilian (above) curled home two delicious free-kicks either side of half-time to add to Yannick Bolasie's strike.

The goals ended a five-match run without a win and helped the Eagles soar back into third spot.

CRYSTAL PALACE 3 WOLVES 1

But after Moritz stepped up to beat Carl Ikeme from 25 yards, Palace never looked back.

Sylvan Ebanks-Blake pulled one back with 17 minutes to play, but Stale Solbakken's side slumped to a third straight defeat.

COLIN'S CRACKER A SMACKER FOR MACCA

COLIN KAZIM-RICHARDS helped lift the Woodcock Park gloom as managerless Blackburn made it two wins out of two under caretaker Gary Bowyer.

Spaniard Ruben Rochina broke the deadlock with a goal off his shins on 48 minutes.

BLACKBURN 3 N FOREST 0

made it a day to forget for new Forest boss Alex McLeish with an excellent first-time finish 12 minutes from time.

Forest striker Billy Sharp was denied by keeper Jake Kean while Danny Murphy headed Greg Halford's effort off the line.

DERBY 3 MIDDLESBROUGH 1

MICHAEL JACOB led the Rams' goal charge, lashing in a Ben Davies free-kick on 19 minutes.

Jeff Hendrick blasted Derby further ahead with a wicked volley soon after and Davies nearly made it three before the break with a free-kick that struck the crossbar.

Conor Sammon failed with two goal attempts early in the second half but made no mistake with his third effort on the hour.

Middlesbrough were well below par but Lukas Jutkiewicz bagged a stoppage-time consolation goal.

LEICESTER 6 HUDDERSFIELD 1

CHRIS WOOD became an instant hero as Leicester turned on the style.

The £1.25million signing from West Brom scored just six minutes into his debut, nodding home from close range.

Wood added a second on 24 minutes from David Nugent's superb cross.

Ritchie De Laet added a third in first-half stoppage time before Anthony Knockaert scored twice in three second-half minutes.

Huddersfield pulled one back through Scott Arfield's 62nd-minute strike, but sub Martyn Waghorn made it six 14 minutes from time.

SHEFF WED 0 BURNLEY 2

KEITH TREACY made sure Charlie Austin's absence wasn't a pain in the arse for Burnley. The Clarets wasted a hatful of early chances and feared they might pay the price for being without 23-goal top scorer Austin, who was sidelined thanks to a buttock muscle strain.

But Treacy came off the bench and found the bottom corner with a stunning left-foot strike on 63 minutes.

And the 24-year had a hand in the second 14 minutes from time, Ross Wallace firing home from the spot after Lewis Buxton handled Treacy's cross.

IPSWICH 0 BRIGHTON 3

WAYNE BRIDGE scored a screamer to send the Seagulls soaring back into play-off contention.

After failing to win any of their five games in December, Brighton got a perfect start to 2013.

Dean Hammond headed in an Andrea Orlandi near-post corner to give Albion a 14th minute lead.

The Tractor Boys were then caught on the break and Craig Mackail-Smith's low drive went in off both posts.

Bridge hit a cracking third when he took a long crossfield ball from Gary Dicker, controlled with a knee and hammered in from 30 yards.

JOE BLOW ENDS 47 YEARS OF HURT

WELL WORTH A HUG: Mason celebrates his winner with Craig Bellamy

JOE MASON hit the winner as leaders Cardiff made it four wins in a row.

His 41st-minute strike earned the Welsh side their first triumph at St Andrew's since 1966.

But it piled on the misery for Birmingham at the wrong end of the table.

The Blues weren't helped when Hayden Mullins pulled up in the warm-up and was replaced by Callum Reilly.

Punch

But they started well and Rob Hall tested Cardiff keeper David Marshall after just five minutes.

Then 18-year-old Nathan Redmond forced Marshall to punch his effort away.

After winning three games in seven days, Cardiff looked flat during the opening half-hour and struggled to create chances.

But Birmingham's injury problems deepened when Reilly limped off.

And it got worse four minutes before the break when keeper Jack Butland failed to properly push away a Craig Conway shot.

Mason pounced to put the leaders ahead.

The Bluebirds could have doubled their lead two minutes into the second half when Curtis Davies did well to clear Matthew Connolly's shot off the line.

Cardiff looked a lot sharper and fresher than they had done in the first half.

But Malky Mackay's side couldn't add to their lead despite some late chances.

Becchio hits the right spot

LUCIANO BECCIO grabbed his 18th goal of the season as Leeds handed former player Dougie Freedman a painful return as Bolton manager.

The Whites made it five straight wins at Elland Road thanks to Becchio's penalty on 66 minutes.

Manager Neil Warnock brought back the Argentine hitman after a thigh strain as one of four changes.

Bolton, looking to complete back-to-back league wins for the first time this season, were unchanged and edged a scrappy first half.

A deflected 40-yard free-kick by Rudy Austin was easily Leeds' best effort of the period.

Sloppy play by Leeds in midfield went unpunished as Kevin Davies freed Chris Eagles to fire a shot across goal which shaved the outside of keeper Paddy Kenny's far post.

Kenny was at his best just before the break, diving to his right to palm away an Eagles piledriver.

Tyrone Mears' clumsy tackle on Ross McCormack allowed Becchio (left) to send Adam Bogdan the wrong way from the penalty spot.

Freedman made a double substitution in a bid to force an immediate Bolton response, but Leeds held on comfortably.

KNEESY DOES IT FOR HAPPY HAMMERS!

WEST HAM gave their fans a real East End knees-up as they saw in the New Year in style.

Mark Noble's fourth of the season and Joey O'Brien's strike wrapped the game up before the break as Norwich were put to the sword.

Russell Martin grabbed a late goal for the Canaries but Sam Allardyce's men held on.

The Hammers made the perfect start after just three minutes when Ryan Bennett fouled Winston Reid inside the penalty area.

Referee Mark Clattenburg pointed to the spot after deciding Bennett had pulled Reid's shirt, leaving City boss Chris Hughton seething on the touchline. A posse of yellow shirts surrounded Clattenburg to vent their fury, but it made no difference as Noble stepped up to slot home from 12 yards.

Without captain Kevin Nolan and defender James Collins, the Hammers looked a completely different side to the one which had lost at Reading on Saturday.

But they were given a real scare on 21 minutes when Robert Snodgrass unleashed a fizzing free-kick from 25 yards which crashed against the post and rolled away to safety. Norwich, who put three past Man City in their last game, went close again when Anthony Pilkington's drive whistled inches wide of the far post.

That spurred the Hammers into action and a wonderful diving save by Mark Bunn prevented Jack Collison from slamming home close in.

Spoon

But there was nothing Bunn could do just minutes later as Noble ghosted into the area and, although his cross was half-cleared by Sebastien Bassong, O'Brien was on hand to slam the ball home. City had lost their previous three games going into the clash at Upton Park – and they should have been at least three down before the break as Carlton Cole produced a contender for miss of the season.

Guy Demel scampered down the right and delivered the perfect cross only for Cole to somehow spoon the ball over the bar from four yards when it looked harder to miss than score.

West Ham should have added a third as Ricardo Vaz Te headed Matt Taylor's cross against the post before Martin's late strike provided a nervy last few minutes.

GO WITH THE JO: O'Brien (right) celebrates his goal

New year, but it's the same old Man City

ROBERTO MANCINI hopes 2013 will be just as successful as 2012 for his reigning champions.

And the Blues certainly turned back the clock to last season's style as they dismantled Stoke.

Goals from Pablo Zabaleta, Edin Dzeko and a Sergio Aguero pen means Mancini's men have now battered Stoke 3-0 in each of the last three seasons at the Etihad.

And, considering the Potters went into the game with the best unbeaten run in the top flight, this was a powerful message from Mancini's title hopefuls.

Zabaleta struck three minutes before the break after City had completely bossed the opening 45.

James Milner drilled over a low cross from the right which had keeper Asmir Begovic sticking out his foot to intercept. The rebound fell kindly for the City defender who had the simple task of burying the rebound from six yards.

Only Begovic, the Stoke post and some very poor finishing kept the game close in the first half.

Steamed

Barely a minute had gone when Aguero took Milner's pass and skipped past a challenge before being denied at the near post by Begovic.

Aguero then latched on to Gareth Barry's pass and turned past Ryan Shawcross far too easily.

The Argie ace unleashed a blinding shot which Begovic did well to keep out low to his right. And, just after the half-hour,

Stoke, unbeaten in 10 games before this, were simply woeful.

Barry and Charlie Adam collided and had visiting fans shouting for a pen, but Joe Hart's only real concern was staying warm as he kept a watching brief.

Dzeko had been quiet in the first half but opened the second like he meant business, meeting Yaya Toure's pass on the half-volley and just clearing the bar.

Toure then darted into the box and pulled the ball back for Dzeko, whose shot was deflected behind.

Finally, 55 minutes in Dzeko bagged his 10th of the season after more great work from Aguero.

He steamed past Glenn Whelan and his driven cross-shot was steered by Begovic straight into the path of Dzeko, who tapped in from point-blank range.

An Adam free-kick on the hour mark provided Stoke's first attempt on goal – and had Hart performing an unconvincing punch clear.

Jonathan Walters then missed a golden chance to pull one back when he miscued his shot, just six yards out, from a corner moments later.

But any doubts about the result disappeared after 73 minutes when Steven N'Zonzi tripped David Silva in the box and Aguero drove home the resulting penalty.

With time running out, Whelan's spectacular 25-yarder was turned onto the post by Hart, but it was a meaningless attempt.

BATTLING Saints moved out of the bottom three after ending Arsenal's run of four successive wins.

The Gunners had scored seven against Newcastle on Saturday but they managed only a single shot on target against improving Southampton.

And Arsene Wenger's men needed an own goal to level after their defence had got in a tangle to gift Saints' record buy Gaston Ramirez the opener.

It was the home side's third successive draw but the first time this season they have taken a point from one of the big names, and on chances they will feel they could have got three. Arsenal were unchanged from the 7-3 win over the Magpies, with Theo Walcott and Alex Oxlade-Chamberlain facing the club where they learned their trade.

Saints brought back Artur Boruc in goal and dropped Kelvin Davis after the 3-3 draw at Stoke.

That looked a poor decision when the Pole dropped two catches, but he got away with it and Southampton fought back into the game after the Gunners dominated the early possession.

Tripped

Ramirez looked to trick his way through the Arsenal rearguard whenever he could, and he had a shout for a penalty when he seemed to be tripped by Thomas Vermaelen.

Referee Lee Probert turned it down, but Ramirez was celebrating after 35 minutes as he gave the home side a shock lead.

It started when Lukas Podolski gave the ball away to midfielder Morgan Schneiderlin, who looked to set up Rickie Lambert.

Bacary Sagna tried to clear but the ball screwed sideways and rebounded off Jason Puncheon for Ramirez, who blasted it low past Wojciech Szczesny.

Saints, though, were ahead for only two minutes. Walcott curled in a harmless-looking free-kick from the left and winger Guly Do Prado sliced the ball past Boruc and into his own goal.

Do Prado did his best to make up for that howler with a shot that Szczesny had to turn away for a corner.

When the flag-kick came over, Sagna nearly put the ball into his own net with his knee but Szczesny clutched it on the line.

The Arsenal keeper kept Southampton out again when Schneiderlin crossed from the right and he knocked the ball away from the onrushing Lambert.

Ramirez thought he had won it when he had the ball in the net after 72 minutes, but a flag for a push on Laurent Koscielny denied him.

HA-PEA DAYS: Hernandez pounces to put United 3-0 in front (inset) before celebrating with YoungBy GRAHAM CHASE

JAVIER HERNANDEZ and Robin van Persie each smashed in a double as United kept a tight grip on the title race.

After exploding onto the scene with a cracking debut season, Hernandez had a quiet campaign last time around.

But he fired in a brace to take his tally to 12 for the current campaign – with van Persie continuing his incredible form by taking his tally to 16 league goals for the season.

Chicharito, or "Little Pea", has true poaching instincts summed up by the fact that every single one of his 31 Premier League goals for United have come from inside the penalty area.

Sir Alex Ferguson was able to make five changes to the side that beat West Brom 2-0, while Wigan boss Roberto Martinez has used eight of the same men for all four of their festive fixtures.

And United's freshness really told with Hernandez firing them in front before Van Persie got a second before the interval.

Threaten

Hernandez added a third after the break as United cantered to victory, with Van Persie prodding in a late fourth.

Wigan got off to a flyer, dominating the ball from the first whistle.

But United always carried the greater danger on the break and were the first to threaten when Hernandez raced onto a long ball from Van Persie and had his shot saved by Ali Al-Habsi.

Ashley Young piled through a challenge from James McArthur and sent in a teasing cross that had just too much on it for Ryan Giggs to prod in.

Wigan continued to dictate but once again they were undone by a long ball, this time from Giggs, and Hernandez fired in only to be called back for offside.

The Latics finally made the most of their possession when Jean Beausejour seized on Rio Ferdinand's clearance but could only smash into the stand.

United also had a penalty shout when Young went down

DANNY GRAHAM nicked a point for the Swans with an injury-time equaliser at the Liberty Stadium.

Christian Benteke looked to have won it for Villa with a penalty five minutes from the end.

But it was not to be for boss Paul Lambert, who saw Andreas Weimann equalise Wayne Routledge's early strike just before half-time.

Having conceded 15 goals in their last three outings, Villa were understandably a little tentative in the early stages.

Swansea should have gone ahead inside three minutes when Routledge found himself alone with only Brad Guzan to beat.

The goalkeeper somehow clawed Routledge's shot to safety before beating away Graham's point-blank strike from the rebound.

There was no mistake from Routledge five minutes later as Villa were once again undone.

A smart through-ball from Pablo Hernandez caught the visitors off guard and Routledge rolled the ball into an empty net.

Michu twice struck the post as Villa were there for the taking. But Swansea paid the price for their indecision in front of goal.

Ashley Williams failed to clear on the edge of the penalty area and Weimann beat Michel Vorm. Although the goal gave Villa a boost, Swansea should have restored their lead minutes after the restart but Graham (right) sliced high and wide at the far post.

Michu headed straight at Guzan and, after Benteke cleared Hernandez's free-kick, substitute Nathan Dyer struck the bar from the angle.

The game changed with eight minutes remaining. Dyer cleared Benteke's header off the line but followed up by bringing down Weimann.

Benteke scored the penalty but Graham snatched a point in the final moments.

PLEASED AS PUNCH: Van Persie salutes the United fans after grabbing his first goal of the afternoon

INSPIRATION: Berbatov

Dim shines bright for Cottagers on the road

WEST BROM 1
FULHAM 2

JUDGING by his display at the Hawthorns, Dimitar Berbatov has a New Year's resolution.

The Fulham forward has long had a reputation for going missing away from home, but he was the inspiration behind what was a badly-needed victory.

Berbatov put the Cottagers ahead only for Romelu Lukaku to equalise – but Alex Kacaniklic had the final say after 58 minutes.

It was only a second win in 13 matches for Fulham and their beleaguered manager Martin Jol, while the Baggies have now lost five of their last eight.

On the evidence of the opening 38 minutes, the Premier League's first game of 2013 was beginning to look an early contender to be one of the worst.

The fans didn't look like the only ones with hangovers as Lukaku and Berbatov both wasted good chances.

But the Bulgarian made no mistake on 39 minutes as he fed Ashkan Dejagah out wide before sweeping home the return pass.

Bruiser

But the Baggies levelled four minutes after the break when Billy Jones crossed for Lukaku.

The Belgian bruiser outmuscled Aaron Hughes only to see his shot saved. Zoltan Gera smashed the rebound against the post before Chris Brunt's follow-up was headed over the top.

It was a crucial moment as soon, completely against the run of play, Fulham regained their lead.

Bryan Ruiz's probing pass dissected the Baggies defence to find the unmarked Kacaniklic.

He took full advantage of Ben Foster's ill-judged decision to dart off his line to slot underneath the Albion keeper.

Lukaku came close to an equaliser when he headed a cross from sub Shane Long inches past the right upright as the Cottagers clung on for a win which gave them breathing space.

WIGAN ATHLETIC 0

under a Beausejour grapple on the edge of the box.

But the Reds were growing and growing and should have grabbed the lead when Tom Cleverley played Giggs into space but the veteran's cross was turned wide by Maynor Figueroa with Hernandez ready to pounce.

Ferguson's side went closer still when Al-Habsi failed to deal with a Van Persie free-kick and Gary Caldwell pulled off a desperate block from Giggs.

Al-Habsi looked shaky again as he struggled to cope with Rafael's drive.

And 10 minutes before the interval United secured a deserved breakthrough.

Wigan failed to clear a corner and Al-Habsi could only push Evra's thumping effort back to the feet of Hernandez, who finished from close range.

Two minutes before the break they doubled their lead when James McArthur and Figueroa collided to allow Hernandez to break.

The Mexican found Van Persie and when Ivan Ramis also slipped, Van Persie cut in and prodded into the far corner with his right foot for a staggering 63rd goal in 76 league outings.

Another Wigan howler almost handed the leaders a third just after the break.

Caldwell coughed up possession in midfield and Giggs swept a first-time pass into Hernandez, who crashed his shot wide.

Hernandez continued to probe and cracked an effort over as United's domination took its toll. Just before the hour, Wigan thought they had a lifeline when Kone rammed in from a Di Santo cross but he was harshly hauled back for offside.

Wigan were rocked but sub Jordi Gomez dragged a shot wide from just outside the box as they looked for a consolation.

United sub Chris Smalling could have seen red for a late pull on Kone.

But by then Hernandez had struck again before Van Persie finished the job.

DEMPSEY SEALS THE DEAL IN SPURS' ROYAL RUMBLE

TOTTENHAM completed the double over Reading after coming from behind to keep up their top-four surge.

Sub Clint Dempsey rounded off the victory with a deflected shot off Mikele Leigertwood in the 79th minute after goals from Emmanuel Adebayor and Michael Dawson.

But Spurs – minus suspended star man Gareth Bale – were given an early shock by relegation candidates Reading.

Pavel Pogrebnyak headed the Royals into a fourth-minute lead when left-back Ian Harte's 20-yard free-kick cannoned off the crossbar and straight into the path of the Russia striker. But their advantage was short-lived as Spurs went on the immediate offensive and were level just five minutes later.

TOTTENHAM 3

Gylfi Sigurdsson – the former Reading midfielder – swung in a corner and centre-back Dawson headed past keeper Adam Federici.

Spurs were then allowed to pass the ball around for most of the half as Reading struggled to get near them.

Jermain Defoe had a 20-yard effort saved by Federici five minutes before the interval and it wasn't until after the break that Andre Villas-Boas' side made their dominance count.

Aaron Lennon was the provider this time as Adebayor nodded in his far-post cross.

Even though Brian McDermott's side hardly got out of their own half after the break, they still had a great chance to level.

A mix-up put Pogrebnyak free in the box but his header failed to hit the target.

Jimmy Kebe and then Alex Pearce also saw efforts cleared as the Royals rallied late.

It was all in vain, though, as Dempsey (right) scored when his shot from 20 yards took a wicked deflection off Leigertwood.

'ARRY HOT FOR COLE

QPR boss Harry Redknapp has admitted he would love to bring Joe Cole to Loftus Road.

Redknapp, who takes his rock-bottom side to west London rivals Chelsea today, has been linked with a host of big-name players.

But top of the list is Liverpool outcast Cole, a player who he managed as a youngster at West Ham.

"I would like to bring Joe here if we could, but the deal has to be right for the club," said Redknapp.

"We couldn't do a deal for what his contract is at Liverpool. We'd have to look at doing a deal with Liverpool if they are willing to let him go.

By FRANK McCAULEY

"I'll speak to Brendan Rodgers when the time is right and see what he has to say.

"It's difficult to find players at this time of year. Not many clubs let players go – and, in the situation we're in, they look to hold you to ransom anyway.

"They see you are in a desperate situation and try to squeeze the life out of you."

SIMPLY VANDERFUL: United's Robin van Persie celebrates making it 2-0

Leave Old Trafford? FERG-ET IT!

By SEAN RAFTER

SIR ALEX FERGUSON has insisted he's still far from finished.

With Pep Guardiola, Jose Mourinho and David Moyes all possibly available at the end of the season, there have been suggestions Fergie – who watched his Man United side thump Wigan 4-0 yesterday – will finally call time on his 26-year career at Old Trafford.

But, in an interview with the Abu Dhabi Sports TV channel, the Red Devils boss made it clear he's going nowhere, saying: "I'm hoping to stay on for a bit of time."

It is widely accepted few will get to know when Ferguson is ready to call it a day, with chief exec David Gill the man with the job of advising the Glazer family about a replacement.

Horrendous

And, though Guardiola, Mourinho and Moyes are bound to be at the top of the list if available, Fergie highlighted the short-term nature of management.

"It's very difficult," he said. "Over the years names have been banded about, but football is such a precarious industry."

"You could talk about one of the exciting young managers in the game – but are they going to be here in two or three years?"

"The sack race is just horrendous. Sometimes a manager can only survive four games if he doesn't win a match."

"Top managers will always be in demand but nobody knows where they are going to be in two or three years' time."
